Murder Indictment Is Returned Against Publicity Agent In Slaying PLAN MORE ARRESTS FOR COBURN DEATH

K. K. K. Official Declares Fox Threatened Lives of Several Officers

(By United Press Leased Wire)
ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 6.—Phil Fox, publicity agent for the Ku Klux Klan was charged with murdering W. S. Coburn, attorney for the William Joseph Simmons faction within the Klan, in an indictment returned by the grand jury today.

Fox, who has refused to make any statement since he killed Coburn in his law office late yesterday, will probably go to trial next week.

Police declared that additional arrests in connection with Coburn's murder would be made, indicating they believed the slaying was the result of a plot.

"These arrests will not be made today," said W. T. Sturdivant, police captain in charge of the probe, "but we have made some progress in investigating the motive for the murder."

Threatens Leaders
Fox planned to kill all other leaders in the insurgent faction of the Ku Klux Klan organization, including Emperor William Joseph Simmons, authorities were informed today.

Dr. Fred B. Johnston, once chief of staff for the Simmons faction, said when Fox called at Simmons' home Sunday night he said:

"You, Simmons, E. L. Clarke and Bill Coburn are slated to go."

Simmons was at home at the time, Johnston said, and he backed Fox into a corner and disarmed him.

"He tried to kill me," Johnston said.

Killed in Office
Fox shot Coburn to death while the latter was in his office discussing a civil suit with Mrs. Oscar Heyman, Cleveland, Ohio. Last week Coburn appeared as attorney for the insurgent faction, endeavoring to have a receiver appointed for the Klan because of alleged mismanagement by the Evans' organization.

Mrs. Heyman and Mrs. W. A. Holbrook, Captain Coburn's stenographers, were the only eye-witnesses to the shooting. They said Fox entered the office and asked to speak with Coburn on a personal matter for a few minutes.

Coburn asked him to return in thirty minutes. Then Fox walked out, but immediately reopened the door and, leaning against the jam, leveled a revolver and began firing, police said. The first shot struck near Mrs. Heyman's elbow, glanced on the desk and struck Captain Coburn in the face. He scrambled and attempted to rise. A second shot struck him, knocking him back in his chair and in rapid succession two other shots were fired into his chair and rolled over on the floor, dead.

Slayer Overpowered
Office attaches and persons passing the office, attracted by the shots, pursued Fox. He was overpowered by George E. Finch, and George W. Allen, who detained him until police arrived.

"He was going to publish some reports about me that would have ruined me and if I hadn't shot him he would have ruined me," Fox told his captors. When informed Coburn was dead, Allen said that Fox muttered, "I'm glad."

Behold Miss Margaret Jean Valliant who has been chosen by the General Board of Promotion of the Northern Baptist Convention, New York City, as mascot of a nation-wide series of Bible and missionary conferences which will be held shortly in 35 cities. The young missionary is the daughter of Edgar A. Valliant, superintendent of the Baptist Union of St. Paul.

MOBS STRIPS JEWS OF CASH, CLOTHES IN GERMAN RIOTS

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—Anti-Jewish riots, which at times threatened to develop into an actual program, raged in Berlin throughout the night and continued today in many parts of the city.

At noon a police report said that there had been 100 individual cases of plundering during the night and that such outrages were still going on, in a greater or less degree.

Hundreds of Jews, many of them with bloody wounds and torn garments to testify to their mistreatment, fled in panic from Berlin this afternoon.

These refugees, stumbling and tottering, many wailing and others evidently dazed at what had happened, joined in a great exodus, spurred on by the distant yelling of mobs.

Jewish "money bootleggers" were caught in the Tauentzienstrasse and when forced to undress American dollars and English pounds were found hidden in their underwear, collars and hats.

At 3 p. m. police estimated the number of shops looted in the city at 1,000.

Attacks on Jews were being carried out by organized bands of ten to twenty youths.

Windows in many shops were smashed, stores were plundered, Jews were being held up in the streets and their clothing ripped from them, while the rioting was at its height.

The first mob outbreak was suppressed by the police yesterday in the Grenadierstrasse but the crowds rallied again under cover of darkness and resumed operations with renewed fury.

Mean Thief Steals Wedding Trousseau

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6.—Miss June Lawrence, actress, cannot marry David Shaw of Huntington, Va., and cannot leave Los Angeles until she gets some more clothes.

Burglars ransacked her home last night and stole her trousseau. The actress planned to be married in Chicago this week and leave for Richmond, Va., to reside.

Offers Dempsey $100,000 Purse to Meet Gibbons in Ariz. Ring

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Nov. 6.—An offer of $100,000 and 20 per cent of the gate receipts to meet Tom Gibbons of St. Paul for a 10 round bout at Phoenix, Arizona, in February, today was tendered champion Jack Dempsey by A. E. Santwell, representative of a group of local sportsmen, upon his return from Arizona where he had made arrangements for staging the affair.

Gibbons already has accepted terms, Santwell said, and Phoenix sportsmen have agreed to enlarge the state fair grounds stadium to hold 40,000. The offer called for staging the return bout between February 20 and 28.

Santwell will open Phoenix as a fight city on Christmas day with Jimmy Delaney of St. Paul and an unselected opponent, while Gibbons will meet Georges Carpentier of France or Mike McTigue, light heavyweight champion, before engaging with Dempsey.

ANTI-BOXING PETITIONS UP HERE

Supervisors Delay Action On Pleas Until Next Tuesday

Action on petitions requesting the prohibiting of boxing clubs in Orange county and the assessing of high license fees for the operation of dance halls outside of incorporated cities was delayed for one week at the meeting today of the county board of supervisors.

Anti-dance hall petitions with signatures of 1850 citizens of the county and similar petitions regarding so-called boxing exhibitions in the county with 1650 signatures appended were presented to the supervisors by H. C. Head, chairman of the committee in charge of the circulation of the petitions and representing the signers. Between twenty and thirty representative citizens of the county were present at the time the petitions were presented.

In presenting the petitions to the supervisors Head said that the board was asked to prohibit the so-called boxing exhibitions in Orange county on the grounds that prize fights were positively prohibited under a state law that makes the holding of such prize fights a high misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000 and with imprisonment of not less than thirty days nor more than one year.

WILL ORGANIZE TO GET SOUTH MAIN LIGHTS

Organization of a district for the installation of ornamental lights on South Main street, between Third street and Delhi road, will be the chief object of a meeting, to be held tonight, of the South Main Street Improvement association, A. B. Rousseau, president, announced today.

Plans to pave full width of the unpaved portion of the street and to annex to Santa Ana a large section directly south of the south city limits also will be discussed.

The association was organized two weeks ago for the purpose of promoting improvements and industries in the south part of the city.

Pointing out that the district represented by the association is forging ahead rapidly, Rousseau said the sentiment of property owners is largely in favor of annexation.

Chief interest centered in the contests between James B. McSheehy, at present supervisor, and Mayor James Rolph Jr., for the mayoralty.

But the contests between Sheriff Tom Finn and Frank Rocco for sheriff; Matthew Brady, incumbent, and Charles M. Pickett, whom Brady defeated four years ago for district attorney; for the nine supervisors to be named from a ticket of thirty-two candidates; were excellent side attractions for the main show.

The campaign was brought to a close last night in a blaze of old-time political splendor.

Predictions of a heavy vote were made by all elements. Some thought it might run as high as 120,000 but others were more conservative.

Naval Base On Pacific Hit By Coolidge

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—President Coolidge is opposed to spending money for a new naval base on the Pacific coast unless it becomes apparent that such a base is vital to the national security, a White House spokesman said today.

The statement was made in comment on the call of Representative Curry, California, at the White House, to urge Mr. Coolidge to favor a large appropriation this winter for that purpose.

The president, his spokesman said, believes in adequate naval defense on the Pacific coast but feels that at present so close to the arms conference which supposedly removed all causes of controversy in the Pacific, there should be "no extravagance" in providing a naval base there.

New Balkan Clash Looming As Result of Bulgarian Attack On Military Attache

ATHENS, Nov. 6.—Jugo-Slavia has started concentration of troops along the Bulgarian border as a warning to back up its ultimatum demanding apologies for the affront to its military attache at Sofia, dispatches from Belgrade said today.

The Jugo-Slavian government demanded complete apology and salute of its flag by Bulgaria following wounding of the attache by shots fired by unknown men.

TAKE ROBBERY CASE WITNESS AS PERJURER

When Willard Craig came from Fresno to aid his friend, Donald Cornelson, by testifying for a defense at the Orange robbery, he was charged with perjury after he testified.

This was the outstanding incident in the trial of Cornelson which was charged with robbing F. A. Henderson, Orange high school principal, of 50 cents in a hold-up at Orange some weeks ago. Cornelson will be sentenced Thursday at 9 a. m.

Craig, who was first charged with complicity in the offense with Cornelson and later was released, took the stand yesterday and flatly denied that he made statements incriminating Cornelson, which were attributed to him by Orange police officers, C. W. Pulley and M. E. Jensen, who testified earlier for the prosecution.

After the jury had retired to deliberate on a verdict, Judge Williams directed the sheriff to take Craig into custody and also notified the district attorney's office to file a perjury charge against him. This was done today by Deputy District Attorney D. G. Wetlin, who conducted the prosecution of Cornelson.

An attempt by the mothers of Cornelson and Craig to establish an alibi for the defendant failed. Wetlin, in his address to the jury, tore their testimony to shreds and likewise attacked that of young Craig, court attaches declared.

The mothers had testified that, although their sons both carried guns, they were in bed early on the night of the alleged robbery; also that the guns had been taken from them by their mothers on the day before the hold-up and did not enter their possession again until the day after.

Attorney Clyde Bishop defended Cornelson. Members of the jury, which deliberated a little more than an hour on its verdict, were Helen M. Delmaling, D. W. Grunwell, James H. Eneart, Joseph G. Allen, Mrs. Elsie Beamer, Sadie J. Fish-coring, Mrs. Nora Melvin, Oliver Hill, D. McKeith, John C. Farnsworth, C. W. Gardner and Henrietta Sher-ley.

ROBBERS USE 4 AUTOS TO FLEE CITY

Authorities Estimate 15 or 20 Men Assisted In $13,000 Haul

(By United Press Leased Wire)
SPENCER, Ind., Nov. 6.—A band of fifteen or twenty bandits who early today blasted the safes in two banks here and escaped with $13,000 in cash and securities, was believed this afternoon to have sought security in the hills of Kentucky. Police and sheriff's possees throughout southern Indiana practically abandoned hope of capturing the bandit band after searching for six hours.

The bandits drove into Spencer in four automobiles, captured Sam Vaughan, night watchman, bound him and locked him in the city hall and then went about their work, Vaughan said.

Working swiftly, bandits were stationed about all of the principal corners of the city while others went cutting telephone and telegraph wires. Heavy charges of dynamite and nitro-glycerine were used to blow off the doors to the bank vaults. The interiors of both banks were demolished by the blasts.

After scooping up all the loot they could see, the bandits fled in their automobiles. Two townsmen, aroused by the blasts, appeared on the streets and were wounded by a volley of rifle fire from the bandits' cars.

Wild confusion spread over the city when the robbery became known.

Florence Kirkham, night operator in the telephone exchange, over the bank, remained at her post while the building rocked under the force of the explosion.

Running from one end of the switchboard to the other, she tried frantically to get connections and notify police officials in nearby cities. She found every wire severed, however, and was unable to make connections.

When communication was restored, several hours later, police in every town joined in the hunt for the bandits. No trace of them was found and it was believed they had made a hasty retreat either to southern Illinois or across the Ohio river into Kentucky.

WANT BABE OF 4 DAYS? SHE IS WAITING

A tiny baby girl for you—If your home is good enough for her.

That was the proposition made to the public today by Dr. Harry Zaiser, superintendent of the Orange county hospital, where lies an infant girl, just four days old, for somebody to adopt.

The babe is sound and healthy and comes of healthy "stock," according to Dr. Zaiser, who stated that the hospital authorities will investigate all offers of prospective foster parents to see that the thing for will have a good home when she is placed.

There are many of the heart-hungry who seek such babies as this, Dr. Zaiser said, so that he expected that a worthy home will be found.

The baby weighs nine pounds.

Fear Suicide Plot By Woman In Poisoning as Mother Ends Life

FRESNO, Nov. 6.—Mrs. Eliza Potegian, confessed poisoner of her 18 year old stepdaughter Margaret Potegian, is being carefully watched in the county jail to prevent her making an attempt to end her life after learning that her mother, Mrs. Mary Torosian, committed suicide yesterday afternoon, in her home by hanging herself to a rafter.

Mrs. Potegian was prostrated by the news, according to Sheriff William F. Jones and showed the first genuine emotion she has displayed since being arrested for putting poison in food served to her step-daughter and step-son.

Walton Takes Fight to Federal Court

LAWTON, Okla., Nov. 6.—J. C. Walton, suspended governor of Oklahoma, today carried his case to the federal courts.

Alleging a conspiracy to remove him from office as governor, Walton, through his attorneys, asked a writ of injunction and a restraining order from federal court against members of the legislature, N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Oklahoma Ku Klux Klan, Acting Governor M. E. Trapp and others, preventing his impeachment.

The petition was filed with Federal Judge John H. Cotterall. Hearing on the petition will be held at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Fire Three Miles Wide Perils San Diego Suburb; Rich El Cajon Valley Periled

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 6.—A brush fire, which rapidly assumed large proportions, today was raging on the west slope of Black Mountain and was slowly eating its way toward East San Diego, a suburb.

At noon several hundred acres of brush and small trees had been consumed and hundreds of more acres were directly in the path of the fire. It was then burning along a three mile width. With a sudden change of wind, it is said, the rich El Cajon valley, where hundreds of homes are located, will be threatened.

BOOZE PARTIES AIRED IN VET BOARD QUIZ

(By United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Sensational extracts from a personal letter written by a veteran's bureau official to W. C. Black, chief clerk of the bureau, was read into the record today at the senate committee investigation by General J. F. Ryan, counsel for the senate committee.

Among statements quoted from the letter were these:

"Let me know when Forbes is going to sell by sealed proposals. Then when I'm going to get a Rolls-Royce."

"It's some ring. They're all playing. And I and beers and booze and we haven't missed our yet. Soused to the gills last Saturday. We eat and wine with the mayor, the sheriff and the prosecuting attorney."

"To hell with the central office. The fun is in the field."

Black, who was on the stand, identified the letter as one written to him in November, 1922, by a subordinate named Tripp, who at that time was stationed at the Veterans' Bureau training school at Chillicothe, Ohio.

Black said the original of the letter was stolen from his office safe. A signed confession was secured from the thief several months later, Black testified. The confession was accepted by the committee for consideration in executive session.

Crushed Bodies Brought to Surface As Families Gather at Shaft

GLEN ROGERS, W. Va., Nov. 6.—Twenty-three bodies have been removed from the Raleigh-Wyoming Coal company's mine, destroyed by a gas explosion early today, company officials announced at 3 p. m. today.

(By United Press Leased Wire)
BECKLEY, W. Va., Nov. 6.—Twelve bodies have been recovered from the pit of the Raleigh-Wyoming Coal company Glen Rogers mine, near here, which was wrecked by an explosion this morning, according to a statement issued at noon today by company officials.

Thirty men are believed still entombed, the statement said.

Sixty-five workers went down the main shaft of the mine at dawn. Twenty-three made their way to the surface soon after the blast. They were uninjured.

Mine officials expressed grave fears for the fate of the thirty men who have not come up.

Rescue squads were making headway through the debris in the mine at noon and several more bodies were being extricated, the mine officials said.

The cause of the blast has not been determined definitely, but it is believed to have resulted from a pocket of gas collecting far back in the mine.

Wives and children of the men who earn their living far below the earth's surface, presented a scene of deepest tragedy as they gathered around the mine shaft. Showing plainly signs of the privations which have been their lot due to the irregular operation of the mine, they bore up bravely under their grief.

The twelve bodies, many of them badly mangled, were brought, one at a time, to the little group at the top of the shaft.

W. D. Lambie, chief of the state bureau of mines, was rushed here with rescue equipment.

The workers had been down in the mine only a short time when the blast came.

Dense smoke and debris hindered the work of first rescue squads to go back down the mine shaft.

The federal bureau of mines at Pittsburgh was reported to have ordered a mine rescue car from Morgantown, W. Va. The state's rescue car is on a siding at Bayard, near the Maryland border in the northern part of West Virginia, nearly 36 hours from the scene of today's disaster.

$200,000 LOSS IN HUGE S. F. BLAZE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Fire in the Realty building on Market street late yesterday did damage estimated today at $200,000.

It burned eight stories and damaged the headquarters of seven candidates in today's election.

Street car traffic, at the hour when thousands were returning home after their day's work, was tied up for two hours and street cars were jammed for blocks up and down Market Street.

JAIL MEXICAN AS ATTACKER OF WOMAN

Manuel Sanato, Delhi Mexican, was held in the county jail today, pending arraignment on a charge of attempting to attack Mrs. E. L. Carroll, 607½ Pine street, last night.

When arrested Sanato was in possession of a bicycle, said to have been stolen from Ross Jimenez, September 29, and a quantity of marijuana, according to police. According to Patrolman Howell, who made the arrest, the Mexican had followed Mrs. Carroll, who was returning to her home from work about midnight. As Mrs. Carroll approached a dark corner on East First street Sanato attempted to grab her. She eluded him and fled. The Mexican followed her on a bicycle.

Mrs. Carroll's husband approached in an automobile and, noticing that a man was following Mrs. Carroll, summoned Officer Howell. According to the police, the bicycle, alleged stolen from Jimenez, had been repainted by Sanato in an attempt to disguise it.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dunlap drove to Glendora Saturday to attend the funeral of Mr. Dunlap's father. About a year ago Mr. Dunlap was ill with influenza and it left him with a weak heart and he had never been strong since. Many friends in Santa Ana will mourn his passing and extend sympathy to the wife and mother who is left alone after fifty-five years of wedded companionship.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Fippis, Mrs. Viola Fippis, Mrs. Kenneth Brown of Long Beach and Mrs. Matilda Moesser, who motored to San Diego to witness Saturdays football game, remained for the weekend, returning to this city Sunday night.

Mrs. James Sleeper, who has been spending a few days at her home, 620 Spurgeon street, has returned to San Juan Capistrano to the ranch of her sister, Mrs. Conrad Crookshank. Mrs. Sleeper is now on the road to recovery following a serious illness.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Watson, 1612 North Broadway, have as their guests Mrs. Watson's brother, C. D. Shute, and Mrs. Shute, from Denver, Colo., who have decided to settle somewhere in California. Other guests over the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Leshner of Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Watson were hosts at a duck dinner Friday evening. Their other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bishop. Saturday evening, lobster was the piece de resistance. The table decorations were yellow and white chrysanthemums. Covers were laid for the hosts, house guests and Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Simpson.

Dr. and Mrs. D. H. Chapin, 514 East Chestnut avenue, have as their guests Mrs. Chapin's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Wickham of Long Beach. Week-end guests at the Chapin home were Mrs. Wickerham's two nieces, Miss Ruth Jones of Seattle and Miss Nellie Powers of Long Beach and an old friend, Chester Van Dusen, of San Diego.

Dr. J. D. Glover has returned to Santa Ana from Long Beach. He has established his residence and office at 1017 North Main street. Dr. Glover's sister, Miss Emma Glover, well known here, has returned from Texas, where she has been for the past four months caring for an aunt, who died recently. She is making her home with her sister, Mrs. I. L. Brisendine, at 422 West First street.

Miss Rebecca Budrow has issued invitations to thirty of her high school friends for a buffet-dance to be given in the gold room at Ketter's cafe tomorrow evening. This will be a formal affair.

Madame Manuela Budrow has been in Los Angeles this week purchasing musical numbers for the Women's glee club, which was recently organized here, and which will meet tomorrow evening in the Knights of Columbus hall at 7 o'clock. The club now has seventeen members, and all who care to spend a brief time twice a month and enjoy singing are given an invitation.

Word from Mrs. W. C. Budrow of 1119 Spurgeon street, who went to Douglas, Ariz., for her health, is that she is enjoying herself and attending many delightful social affairs. She is the guest of her son, L. R. Budrow, general manager of El Tigre Gold Mining company.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Farrar, daughter and son of Arkansas City, Kan., are guests at St. Ann's Inn here. They are seeking an apartment and will remain here for the winter. The Farrars were here last winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Borchard of Fairview were hosts to the members of their "500" club last evening. A delicious chicken dinner was served before the games began. The table was centered with red carnations and candles shed their soft glow over the merry scene. The favors were little Dutch shoes brought from Holland by the hosts during a recent trip to that country. The prizes were awarded to Mrs. Antone Borchard and E. B. Collier, firsts, and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Young, "boobies."

Manager C. H. Schweiger of St. Ann's Inn reports a very large Sunday crowd. The majority of the guests were from Long Beach. The genial host says that he would like someone to answer a puzzle for him, and that is, "Why do Long Beach people like St. Ann's better than their own Virginia, and wish for one like it, and then on the other hand why do Santa Anans sigh for a Virginia?"

The "Caseys" will have a meeting tonight, a feature to be a musical program in charge of J. O. Markel, given by Laskey's orchestra and several vocal and instrumental solos. A "feed" will be in charge of Fred Carrillo, Julius Meyers and Frank Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. West went to Warner Hot Springs today with the expectation of remaining for two weeks for the benefit of Mrs. West's health.

The Rev. Father St. John O'Sullivan, who came here from San Juan Capistrano last evening to attend the meeting of the Orange County Tuberculosis society of which he is a director, returned to the mission today. He reports to the Y. L. I. that the replica of one of the old mission bells to be used on its Armistice day float is nearing completion.

GET UNDER WAY IN SKYSCRAPER TRIAL HERE

The defense in the second trial of Edward J. Koerner, charged with fraudulent operations while promoting a ten-story building project in this city last summer, was having its innings here today in Superior Judge F. C. Drumm's court, where the trial was resumed at 10 a. m.

Selection of a jury from the special venire called for the trial occupied most of yesterday, the jury box being filled at 2:30 p. m. by W. A. Gigney, W. S. Corson, J. A. Pechel, E. L. Tiede, Mrs. Lovisa Leslie, I. J. Jenkinson, D. G. Cole, Charles T. Seeber, A. J. Boyd, F. O. Pierce, F. J. Adams and L. J. Harris.

M. Eugene Durfee, architect, who accused Koerner of obtaining $1375 from him under false pretenses, in connection with a lease upon a local business corner, where the proposed skyscraper was to be built, and William E. Lutz, representing interests from which the lease was obtained, were the principal witnesses called by Chief Deputy District Attorney Mozley, for the state. Their testimony was designed to show that Koerner claimed to have paid Lutz $2750 on the lease before selling Durfee a half-interest in it at $1375, whereas, it was alleged, Koerner had paid nothing on the lease.

A shoe charm for all women reveals itself in the various versions of the model pictured above. Almost any one of the four variations is good for any use you might want. The Spanish-Louis heel gives it enough dignity for dress occasions, while the decorative effects the Spanish-Louis heel and plain toe give it enough dignity for dress occasions, while the decorative effects bring out the style motifs of the moment. Such a style is easily fitted to any woman whom it pleases.

There he sits alonewhy?

IT isn't like a normal boy to sit still and let the other fellows do all the playing. A normal youngster is a young ginger-jar. Full of go! Full of play! Full of the "old nick" itself! And restless as the tides!

So, when an otherwise healthy lad gets listless and unsociable—something's wrong! Chances are, it's his food department.

Before we go another paragraph we can hear some mother say, "Why my boy eats plenty! There's nothing wrong with his appetite. But heaven knows where it goes! It doesn't seem to stay with him very long."

That's just it! He is stoking plenty of "fuel" into his "furnace" but he isn't getting up much "steam." He is eating enough—but is it food rich in energy for study and play?

Food scientists have worked out this very question for you. They have found it is the carbohydrates—the energy units in food—that are most needed by children on the go and grow.

Some foods have these more than others, of course. Wheat, for example, has wonderful food value. Everyone knows that. But the whole of the wheat hasn't nearly as much energy-value as "germ" of the wheat. That's why germ-wheat is used in Sperry Germea.

In fact, Germea contains five times as much life-energy as the whole of the wheat. It is a made-to-order cereal for growing folks because it supplies two great food-elements for children: Energy to go on; strength to grow on!

Former residents of Missouri
now living in Santa Ana today were urged to join others in Southern California in decorating their automobiles and participating in the parade to be held at the State's Carnival at Long Beach next Saturday. These automobiles, according to Charles E. Stokes, who made the request, should show in some way that they represent Missouri and should be at the Chamber of Commerce, Long Beach, by 9:30 a. m. where A. C. Dobson will give instructions.

The Costa Mesa Parent-Teacher association will meet at 2 p. m.
tomorrow at the Costa Mesa school house. Important business matters will be taken up, it was said.

World leaders today are doing all in their power to usher in a sane, rational religion; there is no com-flict today between science and religion and many leaders among scientists are deeply religious, J.
R. Bruff, of the high school faculty, told twenty-two members of the Junior college Y. M. C. A. at a meeting held in the music room of the high school here last night. E. M.
Nealley addressed the young collegians briefly along similar lines.
Bruff's address was on "The Mod-

Approve La Habra Move
To Vote On Sanitation

Approval of a petition to form a sanitary district at La Habra was granted by the board of supervisors here today at a hearing on the petition, which was presented by Attorney Clyde Bishop.
L. J. Wester, W. L. York, A. H.
Johnson and other La Habra business men were witnesses in support of the petition. They testified that the district proposed to be included has a population of approximately 3200, indicating the rapid growth of La Habra and vicinity.

Clerk J. M. Backs was instructed to proceed with arrangements for calling an election on the proposal.

Will in $5000 Estate

A petition to probate the will of the late Lawrence House, who died in this city October 11, was filed today in the superior court here by Fred and James House, sons of the deceased.
House left property valued at $5,000 in Oskdale, Stanislaus county. His four children, including Fred, were away from Santa Ana at the time.

Funeral Planned for Man Who Killed Self

The body of William M. Scott, who committed suicide yesterday morning by hanging himself from the fire escape of a rooming house here, was today taken in charge by relatives, who began making arrangements for the funeral.
The coroner's jury which held an inquest over the body yesterday afternoon returned a verdict that "death was caused by strangulation with suicidal intent. The inquest was a formality and no investigation was made. Notes found in the pockets of the dead man gave ill health as the reason for his act.

Alleged Deserters
from Sherman Sought

Santa Ana police were today asked to aid in the search for two alleged deserters from the Sherman Institute at Riverside.
According to notice received from the officials of the school, which is operated by the government, John Nez, alias John Nelson, and Clinton Claw, Navajo Indians, escaped from the institution yesterday. School authorities believed that the boys might come to Santa Ana.

CITY BANS CONFECTIONERY CARD GAMES

COUNCIL GIVES PROPOSED SOFT TAX ON PUPS WIDE BERTH
DRINK ADJUNCT
HANDED BLOW

Is the dog license tax applicable to puppies when they are born or not until they are six weeks old?

This question was before the city council today for determination as the council last night read a letter from J. A. Mueller, 1412 North French street, in which he requested a refund of $14 collected by F.
W. Fawcett, poundmaster, on puppies alleged to have been only two weeks old when the tax was collected.

In his communication Mueller said that five of the puppies had since died and that the sixth was expected to die.

City Attorney Z. B. West Jr. is collectable at the birth of pups.
Mayor John W. Tubbs and other members of the council were of the opinion that dogs should be given about six weeks' grace to see whether they could weather (no pun intended) the first six weeks of the dogs' life.

M. J. McCurdy, sanitary inspector, informed the board that Fawcett had told him the pups were not less than six weeks old, when the tax was collected. He declared also that Fawcett had offered to prove that three of the dogs asserted to have died had been given away.

"I don't think we are getting a square deal on this," said Mueller, in his letter. "Who ever heard of collecting for dog license before dogs are weaned?"

While not committing himself definitely as to the age at which the dog license should apply, Mayor Tubbs said that the matter should have been adjusted by those in authority without bringing it before the council. The council took no official cognizance of the letter.

SOLONS LEARN GAS
LEAKS FORM PERIL

Leaking gas mains on South
Broadway and South Birch street constitute a fire menace to property along the street it became known here today. The city council last night was told that experiments by Mayor John W. Tubbs and others had disclosed that escaping gas may be lighted if a match is thrown in the gutter.

It was asserted that lawns and shrubs were being killed by gas and that there is danger of automobiles standing on the street being set on fire, under certain conditions.
According to Charles Chapman,
J. C. Hayden, local superintendent of the Southern Counties Gas company, informed him yesterday that the pipe was here and men were on the ground to install new mains which would alleviate the asserted perilous condition. Pavement on both streets would have to be displaced in installing the new mains, it was said. City Attorney Z. B. West Jr. was directed to notify Hayden that the new installations must be made without delay.

MERCHANTS VOTE TO CLOSE MONDAY

All business houses affiliated with the Merchants and Manufacturers' association will close Monday, November 12, in observance of Armistice day, according to an announcement made here today by P. S. Lucas, secretary-manager.
"At a meeting of the board of directors," Lucas said, "it was decided that merchants of Santa Ana affiliated with our organization should close their places on Monday, Armistice day. At the same time, it was recommended that all other places of business, not associated with our organization, close their stores and thus help us observe this important day."

According to Lucas, virtually every store in Orange county, including many not associated with the M. and M., will observe Monday as a holiday. In addition, the secretary explained, San Diego, San Bernardino, Riverside, Redlands and other Southern California cities will observe the holiday.
Endorsement of the Santa Ana Valley Hospital association project to erect in this city a 100-bed modern hospital was voted by the Merchants' association.
The endorsement was voted in the form of a resolution urging all business men of the community to give their whole-hearted support of the project.

In the resolution of endorsement it was said that the directors of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association feel that, as
H. P. Wilson, of the Whittier Memorial hospital, said at a recent dinner in this city, "The hospital should be a service station of the highest class to all humanity" and that the Santa Ana Valley Hospital association will be a community asset.

Judgment Awarded On Note Held In Default

Wayne Goble, plaintiff in an action brought against O. M. Whitman for $150.00, alleged to be due on a note, had been awarded judgment today by Justice J. B. Cox for the full amount of his claim, plus interest and court costs, making a total judgment of $169.84.
Attorneys Kaufman and Martell represented Goble at the trial yesterday. Attorney S. M. Davis appeared for Whitman.

"Parlor card games" in connection with Santa Ana soft drink parlors?
Nix! answered members of the city council in unison here last night, in refusing to grant permission to operate such a place.
And so, today, the sentiment of official Santa Ana had been expressed in short order, when such sentiment was desired.

The applicant had not secured a location, it was pointed out, but he merely had filed an application to assert on which side of the well-known fence the municipal governing body stood.

With the adoption by the council of a resolution of intention, steps today had been initiated for widening to sixty feet Bristol street, north from Fifth street to the city limits. At present the width of the street is irregular, forty feet in some portions and sixty in others. At conclusion of proceedings to make the street of uniform width it was expected property owners would pave the thoroughfare.

Paving Contract Let.
Wells and Bressler were awarded the contract for paving a group of streets in the northwest part of the city. The firm's bid was 19.5 cents a square foot, for five-inch concrete paving; 75 cents a lineal foot, for six-inch sewers; 50 cents a lineal foot, for house sewers, and $120, for one manhole. The total of the bid was $63,915.90.

A petition for paving West Ninth street, from Bristol to Artesia, with five-inch concrete was referred to the city engineer for checking, as was also a petition for paving Rowe street, from Flower to Bristol view avenue, from Flower to Bristol, with asphaltic pavement was granted.

Request of Holiness church for permission to place a tent at the northeast corner of Broadway and Eighth streets for holding revival meetings was referred to Councilmen Killen and Neff.

Grant Extension.
Reciting that rain and other conditions has occasioned unavoidable delay, B. R. Ford asked for and was granted an extension of sixty days in which to complete paving on South Bristol street. He said pouring of concrete probably would be completed in eight days. He pointed out that twenty-one days would be required for curing and green concrete at completion of the job, and, following this, thirty-five days was necessary to take care of legal requirements.

The Yost theater was given permission to place an electric sign across Fourth street at Spurgeon street. The sign will serve the double purpose of welcoming visitors to Santa Ana and advertising the theater.

With one property owner refusing to give right of way through his property, the city attorney was instructed to institute legal proceedings for the opening of Sycamore street, north from Fifteenth to Seventeenth street. It was pointed out that proceedings would not be necessary had the owner given the right of way.

Old Problem Solved.
With complaint being made that the old Blade building at 411 West Fourth street is unsafe, W. S.
Decker, building inspector, and John Luxembourg, fire chief, were instructed to investigate and report to the council.

The Auto Parts and Supply company was given permission to move its auto wrecking yard from East Fourth street to a point on East
First street immediately east of the Santa Ana foundry.

The application of J. F. Foley for permission to operate a billiard hall at 309 East Fourth street was referred to the police commissioner.

Accepting a map for the opening of Richland avenue, from Flower to Shelton, the council disposed of a problem that has been confronting it for two years.

With no protests being filed against the proposed paving of West Fifth street and streets in Wilshire Square, the city clerk was directed to advertise for bids, to be opened November 19.

Young Oil Worker In Accident May Recover
From Skull Injuries

Despite a good sized hole in his skull and a fractured vertebrae in the neck, S. W. Miller, young oil worker, who was injured early today in an accident at Huntington Beach, was reported to have good chances for recovery.

It was said a bushing, weighing about forty pounds, fell about twenty-five feet, striking Miller on the head. He was brought to the Community hospital at about 3 a. m., and examined by a physician, who discovered the fractured vertebrae and a hole in the skull, measuring about one and a half inches.

Motometers Stolen
from Autos In S. A.

Motometer thieves were operating in Santa Ana and vicinity last night, according to reports at police headquarters here today.
J. H. Ross, 1020 North Ross street, said that the motometer was taken from his car.

A large motometer was taken from the machine of Lloyd P. Fuller while the car was parked at the corner of Sixth and Main streets here.

Four Police Phones Ordered Placed
By Vote of Solons

Orders to install a telephone switchboard at police headquarters here connecting with outside stations, also to be placed, today had been given the local office of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company by the city council. The phone service would be available to Santa Ana patrolmen and desk officers, it was pointed out.

Earl Morrow, local manager for the telephone company, told the board the service would be available at a monthly cost of $21, providing the outside phones were not more than a quarter of a mile from the central station.
Morrow said that if equipment were available, the installation might be made within thirty days.

Blame Asserted Wire Defects As Fire At Tustin Proves Costly

Defective electric wiring today was declared responsible for the fire which yesterday afternoon destroyed the home of Herman Uphal, Newport road and Irvine boulevard, near Tustin, according to insurance company officials who paid $2600, representing the full amount of a policy carried to Uphal.

The house and furnishings together with clothing belonging to the family were destroyed, with the exception of garments being worn by the family and a washing on the line.

The fire was discovered by a neighbor, while Uphal was working in a nearby field. Mrs. Up-hal was in Santa Ana.

Uphal and neighbors who made a frantic attempt to save the house and furnishings, and the Tustin fire department were handicapped by lack of fire fighting facilities.

WOMAN FLINGS
SUIT THREAT
AT COUNCIL

Threat by Mrs. W. M. Cubley, 509 South Broadway, to sue to recover $17.05 today hung over the city authorities.

There was on file from Mrs. Cub-ley what was regarded as a sharp letter, in which she said she did not think she has been treated "right" by the city.

The bill is the result of instruction by some city official for an investigation as to whether her home was connected with a cesspool or the city sewer.

A local sewer contractor was hired to make the investigation.
According to Walter Wray, sewer superintendent, the contractor located an abandoned pipe to a cesspool formerly used and, without following the pipe to its end, concluded the residence was connected with the cesspool.

Later, in digging a trench for a main sewer line connection, a line from the house to the main sewer was found. Discovery also was made that the house was connected with the main line.

The contractor has cut his bill for work to $17.05, according to the writer, who added that the city should pay it.

Declaring she had consulted an attorney who had told her she could collect the money from the city, Mrs. Cubley wrote:
"You know we pay our taxes in order that you may be paid to give us protection and justice on matters that pertain to the city, and it is asking too much to ask this (payment of the bill)?"

"Or are you legalized to get folks into a mix-up and then step out and leave them to get out the best way they can?"
"I do not want to say anything unkind or sharp, but you must send that money by return mail or I will be compelled to do something that will be very painful to me and disagreeable to you, perhaps."

A motion to disregard the letter prevailed, and the next move was put up to Mrs. Cubley by the council.

To Reduce Dangerous
Varicose Veins

Strong, Powerful Yet Safe Surgeons Prescription Called Moone's Emerald Oil Has Astounded Physicians

People who have swollen veins or bunches should not wait until they reach the bursting point, which means much suffering and loss of time, but should at once resort to any reliable druggist
a two-ounce original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength).

By using this powerful, yet harless germicide treatment improvement is noticed in a few days and by its regular use swollen veins will return to their normal size and sufferers will cease to worry.
Moone's Emerald Oil treatment is used by physicians and in hospitals and is guaranteed to accomplish results or money returned.

It reduces all kinds of enlarged glands, goitres and wens and is used exclusively in many large factories as an unfailing first aid to the injured antiseptic. Your druggist can supply you.—Adv.

Council Acts To Install Main Sewer After 2 Year Discussion

Creation of an assessment district to install a main sewer to serve the east and southeast portion of the city was under way today, following such instruction by the city council last night to City Attorney Z. B. West Jr.

The new line will serve Taylor's cannery and industrial along the east of the railroads, and residences along Lyon, Chestnut and portions of other streets to the southeast.

Installation of such a line has been discussed at least for two years.

Everybody knows Tom Walker. He has a shoe shine stand at 211 W. 4th St., in front of Steele's barber shop.

Ten years ago Tom Walker got off the train at Santa Ana with $15 and a diamond ring in his pocket—his total worldly assets. Two days later he opened the shoe shine stand he now operates. After being in business only three days he opened an account at the Farmer's and Merchants' Savings Bank. And he hasn't missed making a deposit a single Monday in the ten years since.

Today—Tom Walker owns his own home. He drives a good automobile.
He owns considerable property on West
4th St. and other property in Santa Ana.

He is tolerably wealthy. And he has had no income except what he has made from shining shoes and investments he has made with his savings.

His is an outstanding example of the fortunes that can be accumulated through ordinary regular saving.

You—if you will—can do the same.

SHIFT MADE IN
'R. U. R.' PLAY
CAST HERE

Assignment of certain parts that had not previously been cast, and shifting of other parts, marked a meeting of the Community Players' association, held last night at the Frances Willard junior high school on North Main street, where
"R. U. R.", intellectual melodrama which the organization will present at the Temple theater here
the nights of December 10 to 13, inclusive, was given its first complete reading.

The part of Marius, a robot, for which Carl Black had previously been cast, will be played by Donald Fletcher, according to George Gerwing, assistant director of the Players.

Dr. Gall, head of the physiological and experimental department of R. U. R., will be played by H. B.
Van Dien.

Shift in Engineer Part Burr Shaffer, who, because of pressure of business duties, found it impossible to play the part of Mr. Fabry, engineer general of R. U. R., agreed to take the lesser part of the "third robot." Mr.
Fabry will probably be played by Clay Minix, according to Gerwing.

Only one part, that of Consul Busman, remains uncased. Gerwing said, adding that he hoped that when rehearsal is held at the junior high school tonight there will be several applicants for the part. Rehearsals will be held every night except Saturday and Sunday nights from now on until the public performances are given, Ger-wing announced.

Miss Edna Jaden last night was selected to play the part of Nana.

To Play Robots
The "first robot" will be played by Carl Black and the "second robot" by H. L. Eldred.

Of interest to local friends of the Players' organization here was the statement made by Gerwing that Miss Williams, Wilkes, well-known directress of Los Angeles, planned to present "R. U. R." at the Little Arts theater in that city the week following the Santa Ana production.

It has been decided that all the costumes for the local production of "R. U. R." shall be made, instead of rented. The designs have been prepared, Gerwing said. Designs for the scenery have also been completed.

U. C. Alumni to Frolic
After Coming Struggle

University of California alumni in Santa Ana received with enthusiasm today the announcement that there will be an alumni banquet at the Alexandria hotel, Los Angeles, after the California-U. S.
C. game.

This banquet will be informal and the committee in charge has arranged for the California Glee club and a ten-piece orchestra from the campus, the announcements state.
Reservations for the banquet may be made with Miss Isabel Anderson at 307 or 876 W.

DIVIDEND AGAIN AUTHORIZED BY EDISON BOARD

The regularly quarterly dividend of $2 per share on Edison common stock, payable on November 15 to stockholders of record October 20, was authorized by the directors of the Southern California Edison company, W. L. Deimling, district manager, said today. This is the fifty-fifth consecutive dividend on this issue, he added.

"This makes a total of $22,998-487, 62 distributed among Edison stockholders to date," Deimling continued. "Edison common has maintained a leading position in both the local and eastern markets throughout recent fluctuations and its dividend record is noteworthy."
Commenting on the outlook for the Edison company, General Manager R. H. Ballard said:

"At no time in our history has there been such a tremendous demand for light and power service as we are experiencing at the present time. In the past twelve months 46,000 new consumers have been added to our books.

"At the outset of 1923 our sales department was given a quota of 125,000 horsepower in new business to be secured during the year. This entire quota was absorped by August first and indications now are that over 200,000 horsepower in new business will be brought on to our lines before Christmas.

"Recent rate reductions authorized by the railroad opportunity offer us a splendid opportunity to build up what is technically known as off peak load. This is the fourth consecutive reduction in rates since 1921 and our prices are now lower than in the pre-war period. The new lighting rates will encourage housekeepers in the greater use of labor-saving appliances and we expect to build up a tremendous business along these lines in the coming twelve months.
Lower power rates will also be of material assistance in securing agricultural and industrial business.

"Additional revenues without a proportionate additional investment in facilities is an ideal condition for any organization and that is just what we are now facing under new rates which will lead to a wider use of our commodity among existing consumers."

Man's Mechanism Held

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Man is simply a mechanism run by electricity and chemical reaction—machine made up of twenty-eight trillion electric cells, according to Dr.
George W. Crile, Cleveland surgeon, here attending the convention of the American College of Surgeons.

Emotion, love, hate, fear, are but stimuli loosing currents of electricity through certain paths, he said.

Each cell of the body, 28,000,000-000,000 of them, is a tiny wet battery, with negative and positive poles, according to the surgeon, the brain cells being the most positive, the cells of the liver the most negative.

Fat Case; Wins Contest

FRESNO, Nov. 6.—"Look at me.
I am poor but I eat a lot, and them horses are the same way. No matter how much they eat, they don't get no fatter."

Becoming more eloquent as he went on, Washington Williams, colored, became his own lawyer in the police court and before a jury of six men obtained acquittal on charges of cruelty to his team of horses. The complaint was signed by S. P. Reese, who said that the team was "poor," and when one of the horses fell, Williams kicked it in an effort to get it up.

"All I seek is justice. I can argue my case as well as any lawyer," Williams declared in addressing the jury.

Register Advertisements Are Truthful

You can believe every advertisement you see in the Register.
We consider it a point of honor to make the Register's advertising news as truthful as its editorial news.

We are careful to check advertisements that appear untruth-ful. The reliable, substantial establishments of Santa Ana would not think of unscrupulous advertising anyway, but oc-asionally a fly-by-night concern or a promotion company does stretch the point somewhat. But these over-statements are checked and corrected before they ever appear in the Regis-

Conditions In Mexico Likened to Our Own In Forceful Talk

A meeting which had as its purpose, international peace and friendship was held at the home of Mrs. A. J. Crookshank on Saturday, by the Santa Ana chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

One of the main interests of the organization is to seek an understanding of other people and to promote world peace. In view of the fact that the problems in Mexico form a specific phase of this movement, a series of programs have been arranged concerning that country.

The chapter was most fortunate in having Senor Leandro Leal, consul from Mexico in Los Angeles, discuss the mutual relations of his nation and ours. The history, the motives and the ideals of his country were very clearly set forth.

He spoke of the three revolutions which Mexico has had in the last century. Each of them has been a struggle for freedom, each has had a high ideal and has accomplished its purpose.

The first was nationalism when Mexico won freedom from Spain in 1821. The second was political and resulted in the victory of the Republican party over the Monarchist party in 1867. The latest revolution has been a social one in which those who were oppressed, revolted against the wealthy class, for which the government made all provisions, totally ignoring and neglecting others.

That many events in Mexican history have their counterpart in that of our own country, was made clear by the speaker. They, too, have fought for life, for freedom and but recently, for that happiness which comes through improved social conditions.

Senor Leal pointed out what remarkable progress had been made in the establishment of a true democracy and in the promotion of education in Mexico. Encouragement and material help is offered those who will pursue agriculture.

The speaker's forceful exposition of his country's problems, stimulated among his hearers an interest in the sister republic and left in their minds, a sense of friendship which will mean sympathy and a desire for increased understanding of the neighbor to the south.

He was accompanied by the vice-consul, also of Los Angeles.

Many former citizens of Mexico who now make Santa Ana their home, and others interested in the nation were guests of the chapter to hear Senor Leal and to enjoy the social hour which followed.

An added feature of the program was the delightful music of Senor Jesus Garcia. The song "Ojos Tapados" to his guitar accompaniment, and "La Estrellita," accompanied on the piano by Miss Ruth Frothingham.

Young Girls Enjoy Barn Frolic

Reminiscent of the Halloween season was a gay party enjoyed recently by the Intermediate girls of the First Baptist Sunday school, in the roomy barn at the J. H. Stewart home on West Fifth street.

"Twas a costume party and the young merry-makers, in their quaint and pretty garb, seemed to fit into their surrounding perfectly. Spooky games also were appropriate and at the refreshment hour, attractive baskets of candies, apples, nuts, raisins and grapes supplemented the delicious pumpkin pie and cider.

Enjoying the frolic were Mrs. Chapman, the teacher the Misses Grace Pritchard, Lucille Harrison, Margaret Glenn, Elizabeth Robinson, Hazel Gilbert, Cecelia Mudge, Priscilla McDonald, Rosemary Thomson and Lois Stewart.

Everyone Asked to Add Favorite Recipes to Thanksgiving Menu

The magic of flying time! Here is Thanksgiving almost upon us—Thanksgiving with its suggestions of a happy home holiday and hearts filled with gratitude for the wealth of the harvest.

Just because the day is set apart as one in which to realize the plenitude of the harvest, it naturally follows that the Thanksgiving dinner is designed to offer as wide a variety of dishes as the skill of the housewife can encompass.

Each section of the country boasts of delicacies peculiar to itself alone. Where else can one get such baked ham with glazed sweet potatoes as in Virginia, or such shell-fish as on the east coast of Maryland, or such roast turkey with cranberry sauce as in New England, or such feathery mashed potatoes with rich gravy as in Iowa and the middle west, or such flaky baked salmon as in Washington or such semi-tropical fruits and tingling Spanish cookery as in our own south-west?

In Santa Ana are famous cooks from all parts of the country—not just our own United States, but from all over the world. Why not have some Thanksgiving recipes from them from day to day?

Will you write some favorite that your family demands on special occasions? Will some bonny Scot tell us how to make scones and short bread? Will a Swedish friend tell the secret of her wonderful pastries? Will La Belle France whisper to us her favorite sauce recipe?

Let's have in the Register columns, an international Thanksgiving dinner. I know a Maryland tried chicken recipe that I'd love to pass on.

Ebell Bazaar Plans

So many really beautiful articles are being turned in to the Ebell Bazaar in readiness for the rummage sale Saturday that decision has been reached to defer the sale at the Masonic building Thursday and continuing for three days.

Mrs. Earl Morrow, chairman of the ways and means committee, which virtually manages the bazaar, has asked that all donations be in by tomorrow where in the morning hours, Mrs. James Harding and Mrs. Ralph Mosher will receive them and in the afternoon, Mrs. Charles Mitchell and Mrs. James Tarpley. The various section leaders will all be expected to be present to mark the articles for their individual booths.

Non-section members with Mrs. Mary Robertson as their capable chairman, were today elevating their energies to decorating the big room formerly occupied by the Southern Counties Gas company, and tomorrow the booth chairmen will complete their decorative schemes.

In the meantime, under the competent leadership of Mrs. George Balderston, the luncheon plans are nearing completion. Mrs. Thurston has announced that Thursday's luncheon would be presided over by Mrs. Fred M. Robinson and the members of the Third House, hold Economics section of which she is leader, while on Friday, Mrs. George R. Reyburn and her Second Travelers will be in charge. Mrs. Balderston asks that all members be present.

Sons of Veterans

Interesting events which occurred at Pomona last night at the session of the Sons of Veterans of that city, were today being pleasantly dwelt upon by a contingent of local Sons who motored over for the program arranged to honor Harry A. Thayer of Santa Barbara, division commander.

Commander Thayer will be the guest of the local camp Monday, November 12 when with other division officers he will be present at the celebration of Veterans' day when Santa Ana Sons of Veterans have asked all patriotic orders of the county to join them in a pleasant evening at G.A.R. hall, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Members of Santa Ana Camp who went to Pomona last night included Walter Somerby, commander; E. J. Parker, senior vice-commander; L. A. Ludwig, division commander; F. L. Carpenter, secretary; H. M. Brothers Jr., color bearer; A. A. Holt, inner guard; C. E. Broyles, outer guard; M. F. Palmer, Frank McDowell, M. R. Davis, C. S. Hubbard and F. W. Crouch.

Aid Society

Mrs. Antonia Was of 701 Cypress street, will entertain the members of the southeast section of the First Presbyterian Aid society Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Members are asked to be prepared to sew as this will be the final meeting before the bazaar to be presented December 1.

Parent-Teachers

Lowell P. T. A. will meet in special session at the school Thursday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock when a reception to the teachers will be presented.

Missionary Society

At the Baptist church tomorrow, the Woman's society will hold an interesting all-day session opening with the industrial program of the morning at 9:30 o'clock.

At mid-day a social hour will be enjoyed as the members partake of a covered dish luncheon and in the afternoon the missionary program will be presented.

W. R. C. Federation In Interesting Session Honors Veterans

By MRS. JULIA A. GARRISON
Federation Number One, Woman's Relief Corps of Southern California, held its second annual all-day meeting in Odd Fellow's hall, Anaheim, yesterday with Mrs. Estelle Ludwig, federation president, in the chair and a large attendance from the six Corps comprising the federation.

The meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. Alice Yount, chaplain, and the singing of "America" by the audience. Department officers were introduced and seated. Mrs. Ludwig announced the first business would be the election of officers for the ensuing year.

Mrs. Sarah Brown of Tustin, federation president-elect, was called to the chair to conduct the election at which the following officers were re-elected:

President, Mrs. Estelle Ludwig, Santa Ana; senior vice-president, Mrs. Sarah Hill, Orange; junior vice-president, Mrs. Sadie Sease, Whittier; treasurer, Mrs. Gallienne, Huntington Beach; secretary, Mrs. Babel Kenzil, Fullerton; chaplain, Mrs. Alice Yount, Santa Ana.

Following the election was a tableau representing "Americanization," one of the departments of work being done by the Relief Corps. In the group were in dians, foreigners and Mexicans, all under the protecting care of Uncle Sam and Columbia.

Members of the G. A. R. formed a group around the altar while the audience sang some of the old familiar war-time songs so dear to the comrades of the Grand Army, concluding with "Boys in Blue" sung by Mrs. Emma Chapman, to the tune of "Silver Threads Among the Gold," which is here reproduced by request:

"BOYS IN BLUE"
Boys in blue are growing old, silver threads among the gold, Shine upon your brow today, life is fading fast away.

But our comrades you will be, still the same old boys to me, Yes my comrades brave and true, still the same old boys in blue, Cheeks may fade and hollow grow, bent the form and footstep slow.

Yet our hearts are ever true, to the boys who wore the blue, And my comrades you will be, will be, still the same dear boys to me, Yes my comrades you will be, ever young and fair to me.

Deeds of valor ne'er grow old, of my song or story told, Brighter growing day by day as the years pass swift away, Comrades, ever brave and true, and true, now we pledge our love to you.

Yes you dear old boys in blue, now we pledge our love to you, Comrades we are growing, growing old, silver threads among the gold, But our hearts will e'er be true, to the dear old boys in blue.

As the song ended the comrades were treated to gifts of sweets and flags as mementoes of Veterans' day at Anaheim. The luncheon was presided over by 325 guests of the Anaheim Corps sat down to a delightful banquet which was greatly enjoyed. The afternoon session was devoted to exhibition drills by Whittier, Fullerton, Anaheim and Santa Ana. The four judges were past department officers who decided in favor of the drill team of Anaheim. Mrs. Emma Sheer, who made the presentation, congratulated all the other teams on the beauty and excellence of their work. The addition to the prize, a five dollar gold piece—consolation prizes of boxes of candy were given the defeated teams.

The winning team wore white dresses and carried small American flags; Fullerton team members were in white uniforms with a red stripe on the jackets. Whittier also dressed in white with color sashes and Liberty caps while Santa Ana members were lovely in pastel tinted gowns.

Mrs. Estelle Ludwig was presented with a beautiful wrist watch as a testimonial of the love and esteem of the federation members, who are very enthusiastic over the results of the first year's work of the organization.

Members of the various G. A. R. posts are very much pleased with the meetings and greatly enjoy the social times, fine programs and delightful dinners.

Daughters of Confederacy

Mrs. J. W. Taylor and Mrs. Cornelia Phillips will entertain the Daughters of the Confederacy Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Taylor, 406 South Birch street.

All Confederate Veterans of the city will be honored guests and Colonel William F. Heathman, who recently returned from a visit in the East and South, will relate interesting episodes of his trip.

Former Oregonians Enjoy Picnic at County Park

Almost it seemed that boundary lines became mixed Sunday at Orange county park, and that Oregon had temporarily moved down into Southern California, so many picnickers seeking the county's beauty spot were Oregonians.

The reason was not far to seek, for Le Grand, Oregon, which has sent so many sons and daughters to Santa Ana and Orange county, was being honored with a picnic. Gathered around the long tables under the sycamore trees, the former Le Grand folk enjoyed a glorious feast at midday, with the contests of all picnic baskets added to the amazingly varied menu.

Boating, dancing, tennis and all the park amusements offered entertainment during the afternoon while the children frolicked in their own playground with their swings, chutes, merry-go-round and games.

Gathered for the affair were Messrs and Mesdames J. J. Harlan, Ambrose Wright, Minnie Stilwell and family, C. S. Stilwell, Arthur Jones and family, Walter Wallace and daughter, L. D. Noah and daughter, J. F. Douglas, J. L. Robinson, P. H. Dickinson and niece and nephew, M. R. Bond and daughter, M. A. Smith and son, Paul McMillan, M. M. Ford and family, Miss Lena Robertson, Dr. G. W. Zimmermann, Mrs. Duryea, Mrs. C. R. Hibbard and sons Reed and Richard Hibbard.

Professional Women Plan Dinner at Inn

With over thirty members of the Business and Professional Women's club gathered around the luncheon tables at St. Ann's Inn yesterday, a friendly hour was further enlivened by the pleasing program presented by Miss Dorothy Hurd, vocalist, accompanied by Miss Gene Ross.

Miss Hurd delighted her audience with her clear, vibrant voice and the charming interpretation given her songs, "The Magic of Your Eyes," "The Lilac Tree" and a quaint little melody whose tale was that of a flirtation between an English soldier and a pretty French maiden.

The singer was introduced by Miss Helen Gallagher of the November program committee whose members include Miss Harriet Whidden, chairman, and Miss Genevieve Humiston.

In view of the fact that the celebration of Armistice day falls on Monday, November 12, there will be no session of the club before the usual weekly luncheon on Monday, November 19. The following week, on the night of the twenty-sixth, will be hospitality night with the club members meeting at the Inn for dinner instead of the usual luncheon. Plans for the program are in the hands of Miss Whidden and her committee and more definite items will be announced later.

W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Louise Satterwhite of Tustin will be hostess to members of the W. C. T. U. Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when Mrs. Philip Ebell will present a program on "Temperance and Missions."

HOMELESS PAIR HOUNDED BY HARD LUCK

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Homeless and out of work. Fred Davis, 21 years old, and Julia, his pretty 19-year-old bride, are in the Oakland city prison, innocent victims of the law. They were arrested by Policemen Walter Garrett and Fred Favero when they were found sleeping in their automobile, sole remaining reminder of better days, at Stanford and Marshall streets, Oakland. A teaspoonful of whisky found in a suitcase made them technically guilty of violating the Wright act, and both were charged with being in possession of intoxicants.

The bride wept as she told her story of the hand-to-mouth existence she has lived since her husband has been out of work.

Lived As Nomads.
Happy in the love of her boy husband, established in a little home in North Oakland, the bride led a rose-colored life until two months ago, when Davis lost his position. Unable to pay the rent for the house, with no money to meet the installments on newly purchased furniture, the couple were forced to use their automobile as living quarters. A bed was fitted out in the tonneau of the car.

Days were spent in quest of a job, nights found the pair with no regrets at the gypsy life they were leading.

But fate intervened in the persons of the officers. Their suspicion aroused, Garrett and Favero opened the suitcase, which contained the few remaining clothes of the wife. When the policemen found the bottle containing the liquor in the grip they were sure that the couple were members of a burglar gang and locked them up, separating them for the first time since their marriage.

Girl Released.
When Inspector Edward O'Donnell later interviewed the wife he was satisfied as to the truth of her story and notified her family. The girl had refused to acquit her parents of her plight, even though she was suffering from lack of nourishment and from exposure.

Mrs. Davis was released, but the husband will be arraigned on a charge of violating the prohibition act.

After her release, the girl wife left the city hall on the arm of her father, protesting against the separation from her husband and promising to return to plead with the court for leniency for him.

POLITICAL SPLIT IN DRY RAID APPARENT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Possibility of a split among Redding political officials over the authorization of the raid in which John Vail, federal prohibition agent of Oakland, shot and killed Deputy Game Commissioner James S. White in a Castella hotel, loomed as the Shasta county grand jury met to consider indicting the agent for the slaying.

District Attorney Jesse W. Carter of Redding, while admitting that he had no knowledge of the source of Vail's authority to raid John Matos' hotel, assured Prohibition Director Rutter that Vail would not be prosecuted.

Regardless of District Attorney Carter's promise to Rutter, the grand jury has convened to make an investigation of the shooting.

Vail, testifying to Chief Agent W. R. Paget, while recuperating from his two bullet wounds in the Merritt hospital, Oakland, stated that he shot in self-defense, and that the raid was conducted on a warrant issued by a Redding justice of the peace, whose name Paget would not reveal.

It is believed that Vail was in the employ of Harry C. Wheeler, former chief prohibition agent in San Francisco, now operating a dry detective agency in Oakland, when making the raid in Castella.

Holes In Evening Gowns
Appraised at $25 Each

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Holes in evening gowns were quoted at $25 each by Justice of the Peace Conlan.

Mrs. Harry M. Schwartz of 1553 Haight street was given judgment for the cost of one hole, and accused E. J. Casey, manager of a Haight street renovatory, as the responsible party. Mrs. Schwartz said she sent her gown to the renovatory and it was returned with a hole which had not existed prior to the sending. This blocked the sale of the gown to Mrs. Lottie Clyne of 1441 Haight street, Mrs. Schwartz said. Judgment against Casey followed.

Only White Magpie
Known Is Located

DENVER, Nov. 6.—A snow white magpie, believed to be the only specimen ever taken alive, was captured near Denver by Joseph Cummings, high school boy. Charles Bowman Hutchins, naturalist of Mill Valley, Cal., who is in Denver, heard of the find and last night went to the boy's home to see the bird. "I believe this is the only pure white magpie in existence, so far as scientists have been able to discover," Hutchins said.

ALL-STAR CAST APPEARS IN WEST END FILM

Sunday the super-photoplay, "Rupert of Hentzau," which was adapted from Sir Anthony Hope's novel of the same name, began its five days' run at the West End theater.

The spirit of the narrative is excellently interpreted by the actors, who are all admirably suited for the parts they portray. Elaine Hammerstein makes a truly regal Flavia, and Bert Lytell is most convincing in his difficult role of Rassendyll and the King. As the devil-may-care Rupert of Hentzau, Lew Cody supplies one of the best characterizations of his screen career. It is difficult to choose for special mention from a cast, which consists solely of celebrities, but Hobart Bosworth as the great, but inwardly tenderhearted, Colonel Sapt and Marjorie Daw as pretty, trusting little Rosa Holt are conspicuous even among their stellar companions.

VALENTINO IN CAST OF "CONQUERING POWER"

The Rex Ingram production of "The Conquering Power," greeted in New York as one of the truly great motion pictures of the age, is announced by the Princess for three days, beginning today. It is an adaptation by June Mathis of Balzac's novel, "Eugenie Grandet," a powerful story of love and greed in a small French provincial town.

Alice Terry and Rodolph Valentino, who created such memorable successes as the lovers in Ingram's production of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," are cast in the leading roles of Eugenie and her Parisian suitor, Charles, and Ralph Lewis plays the old miser, Grandet.

Woman Succumbs to Auto Crash Injuries

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Mrs. Alice D. Welch, 28, 249 Peru street, died at the San Francisco hospital from injuries she received September 16, when an automobile in which she was riding collided with a street car at Eighth avenue and Geary street. Mrs. Welch was riding with a party of friends in an automobile driven by Walter Wittkop, 503 Laguna street, when the machine and a No. 4 car, in charge of Motorman Ed Strong, collided. No one else was seriously injured.

Traveler Shaves Self Into Strange Exile

HAMBURG, Nov. 6.—A lost mustache is forcing a Copenhagen man to take a prolonged vacation in Hamburg. The Dane came to Germany wearing an enormous turned-up mustache. His friends joked at him about it. People started at him in the cafes. The Kaiser Wilhelm brand of upper-lip decoration is not popular in the very modern commercial city of Hamburg. It is too intentional.

In desperation the Dane had his mustache shaved off, and found his lot much pleasanter until he reached the German border on his way back home. The heavily mustached chap on his passport photograph did not in the least resemble the smooth-faced, modern-looking Dane. Passport officials turned him back, and detectives gave him the third degree. In his changed appearance they found resemblance to a famous international swindler. The Dane was too much ashamed of the incident to seek aid from Danish officials, and is now patiently growing a new mustache which will enable him to measure up to his passport photograph.

So Gameleddin Journeyed to Abyssinia

GREAT was the glory accorded a prophet of Mohamet who journeyed to far countries to spread the Moslem faith. So Gameleddin, Mufti of Aden, set out on a mission to Abyssinia.

Returning to Aden he told of a drink which had refreshed and sustained him through all the hardships of travel, and approved the use of this drink by the followers of Mohamet. Thus, coffee received the sanction of the Moslem Church.

Gameleddin, however, knew nothing of the delicious goodness of such coffee as you may enjoy—M. J. B. COFFEE.

CROOKED STICKS LAUDER HAS OF BIG INTEREST

Sir Harry Lauder, who will appear at the high school auditorium here the night of November 15, under the auspices of the Santa Ana Musical association, has a remarkable collection of walking sticks, which includes one that is described as "the crookedest stick in the world."

"While this may not be literally true," said his press representative, Willard D. Coxe, "as the Lauder collection contains a number remarkable for their natural crooks and curves, it is undoubtedly one of the most curious walking sticks ever exhibited." The Prince of Wales discovered it in a display in front of a rural shop near Nikko, Japan, during his Far East tour, and knowing Lauder's penchant for unusual walking sticks he purchased it and directed his secretary to forward it to the little Scottish entertainer with his compliments.

"The Prince of Wales is a great admirer of Lauder, and is familiar with the way in which the singer adapts his sticks and costumes to his characterizations. Probably he visualized a new song as a result of his novel gift. In this the prince will not be disappointed, for Lauder has built a rollicking melody around the latest addition to his collection, and will sing it for his American admirers during the current season."

"This gift of the Prince of Wales is not the first walking stick that Sir Harry has received from royalty. Several years ago, King George, while rambling on the grounds of Balmoral castle, noticed a hough that was curved like a shepherd's crook. At his suggestion it was cut and polished and sent to the comedian, who frequently carried it during his tour of the United States last season."

"Sir Harry always carries a collection of walking sticks in his luggage, and many of these are utilized in his performances; but by far the greater collection is kept on his estate near Dunoon, Scotland, where a room is entirely filled with them, artistically arranged."

The price of seats is 50 cents to $2.50, no higher, reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

DANCE NUMBERS BROADCAST BY THE REGISTER

KFAW, The Register radiophone, broadcast a fine program last night, from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock, when William M. Semmacher's Chromatic dance orchestra played twelve numbers. The entertainment offered measured up with any orchestra program which has been given at KFAW this year. The program was made up of popular music and each number was given with dash and pep, which marked the organization as a group of clever syncopators.

The hit of the evening was the duet offered by William Semmacher, pianist, and Ford Pascal, tenor banjo. This combination of instruments proved perfectly adapted to broadcasting.

The complete program broadcast was made up of these numbers: "I Wish I Knew," "Mad," "My Lost Pearl," "Some of These Days," "All Night Long"; Duet, Love Song; Semmacher, piano, and Pascal, banjo "I Cried for You," "Who's Sorry Now?"; "I'm Drifting Back to Dreamland"; "No, No, No," "Runnin' Wild," and "Kiss Me Again."

KFAW's Thursday night program will be the first of a series of programs to be offered by talent from the Greenleaf Building studio colony. Stanley Reed is arranging this series which when completed will have offered every artist who maintains a studio in the West Fourth street building.

MUSIC TRAINING OF STUDENTS IS TESTED

A fuller understanding of the musical training they receive today had followed the appearance of the young people of the high school here in a melodic prologue to a lecture recital, presented at the high school auditorium recently, by Edmund Vance Cook, poet-lecturer-impersonator.

The large crowd of friends, drawn by the appearance of the noted writer, who was brought to the city by the City Teachers' league, was given added entertainment by the forty-five minutes of music, which opened with selections by the school orchestra, directed by Mrs. Lena Moon Morgan, and which included the "March of the Wooden Soldiers" and a walse.

When the curtain rose again it was to disclose an unusually beautiful woodland scene where Indians had placed their wigwags and lighted their fires. Members of the Senior Girls' Glee club, costumed in appropriate Indian garb, were seen in attitudes of abandon in the mystical light as from off the stage sounded the clear, long-drawn notes of a flute. Cadman's "The Land of the Sky-Blue Water" was the melody which was taken up by the violin (played by Miss Laura Gould), at the piano and, finally, the fresh girl-voices.

The next number offered the Senior Boys' Glee club in two songs, "Pipes of Pan" and "The King of the Outlaws," after which the woodland scene was shown again, with Indian tepees replaced by the rude equipment of a gypsy camp where a mixed chorus of six voices sang "The Gypsy Chorus" from The Bohemian Girl. The setting was especially lovely and the young people in gay Spanish gypsy costume added to the colorful effect.

Then as the second number, "Carmina" was sung, it signaled the appearance of Miss Geraldine Rodriguez in Spanish dancer's costume who presented graceful and spirited dances to the waltz song.

Miss Margaret Wickes of the music department, presented the entertaining features and received much praise for the evidences of her successful work with the young people. The program was almost an impromptu one as the various numbers had not been rehearsed from time to time in readiness for a recital later in the school year. That the young people were able to present so finished a performance at such short notice was considered matter for congratulation to their director and teacher.

WOMEN LOUDER IN PROTESTING TAXES ON OIL LAND, CLAIM

Auditor Told Levy of Five Cents on Unit Should Be 'About Right'

LETTER IS REVEALED

Fund of Knowledge Needed on County Job, List of Questions Show

Has the taxpayer a voice in this county?

County Auditor W. C. Jerome will say she has—also that she does not hesitate in lifting it at about this time of the year, when the tax bills are coming in.

Jerome spoke in the feminine gender because the "voice of the people," as it reaches his ear at this season, he stated, had a soprano pitch. Most of the protests he receives, which refer to redemption tax on property sold for taxes, come from women. Jerome refused to commit himself as to whether that fact was strange or natural.

The auditor's duty is to provide information on the amounts necessary to redeem property thus sold for taxes. But he is called on it seems for somewhat more explicit information than mere figures. Such, for instance, as:

Questions Varied.

Why taxes are so high?

Why are oil land frauds?

Why do some people take delight in defrauding their fellow men?

Is the deed to my property valid?

How much is due on my property at Huntington Beach? Or San Juan Capistrano? Or Peralta Hills, or most anywhere? (legal description that would enable auditor to locate property being omitted with seeming care).

And so on and so on. Jerome apparently is counted upon to be a fountain-head of the world's knowledge, judging from communications hurled at him by taxpayers, curious, angry, suspicious, timid or otherwise.

Reassures Woman.

A certain Pasadena woman exchanged several communications with the auditor's office in a determined but vain endeavor to have Jerome assure her that the title to her property was valid before she would redeem it. Each time her answer came back in the form of brief, cold figures:

"She thought I was a title company," Jerome commented.

Taxpayers who write for information and fall to give a legal description of their property, so that

'ROBIN HOOD' SEEN AS STELLAR EVENT OF MUSIC SEASON

No event in Orange county's musical history has caused such widespread interest as the Orange County Choral union's production of "Robin Hood." Reginald De Koven's famous opera, to be presented at the Yost theater here the nights of December 4 and 5, according to Ellis Rhodes, director of the Choral union.

"The characters in this standard and ever-popular work are like old friends to hundreds of theatergoers in this section," Rhodes continued. "There is a warmth about them, a something real, that is lacking in the characters of many another opera."

"Not alone do the persons of the play—Maid Marian, Robin Hood, Friar Tuck, the Sheriff of Nottingham and the rest—appeal to the popular imagination, but there is something about the underlying idea, or atmosphere, of the piece that charms men and women, young or old."

"Perhaps one of the outstanding characteristics of 'Robin Hood,' that make it so popular year after year, is that the melodies and the harmonies of it blend so perfectly with the spirit of the lyrics. The one expresses the other, so to speak."

"Land of Enchantment." "Scores of theatergoers who ordinarily are not impressed by plays and operas will gladly permit themselves to be carried away into the land of enchantment unfolded by De Koven's immortal work."

"A record attendance is certain to mark the choral union's production of the opera."

Miss Marjorie Warner, who will sing Maid Marian, endeavored herself to the musiclovers of Santa Ana and Orange county by her charming rendition in "The Bohemian Girl," which was regarded by competent critics here as one of the outstanding of last winter's achievements of the choral union.

Miss Warner has a delightful stage personality and this, coupled with a clear, bell-like soprano, adds to her remarkable ability to leading feminine operatic parts. Evidencing her keen interest in the welfare of the choral union, she makes special trips from Los Angeles, where she is now residing, to attend rehearsals here.

Mrs. J. M. Hitchcock of Anaheim, who is cast for the soprano part of Annabelle, sings in the Methodist White Temple church at Anaheim. She will sing Annabelle when the choral union presents the opera at the high school auditorium of the Mother Colony on the night of December 7. Her voice has a fine clarity and attractiveness.

Miss Kathleen Owens of Santa Ana, who will sing the part of Annabelle the two nights that the choral union produces "Robin Hood" in Santa Ana, has been in other productions of that organization and in each part she has won for herself a host of admirers. She presents a charming appearance and possesses a voice of sweetness and spirit.

Mrs. A. E. Chapman of Santa Ana, who is cast as Dame Durdan, will be remembered by local theatergoers as the nurse to little Arline in "The Bohemian Girl." Lloyd Kennard, who is Will Scarlett in "Robin Hood," sang during the season of 1922 with the Mission Play. He has also appeared as a vocalist in the Wilshire Presbyterian church, Los Angeles, and has recently come to Santa Ana from Corona, where he directed the First Congregational church choir. His is a fine, rich bass voice.

Assists With Direction. Miss Holly Lash, who will sing Alan-A-Dale, is a Santa Ana young woman who has worked heart and soul to help make the Orange County Choral union the successful organization it is. She has received excellent musical training and is now instructing in voice and expression. Because of her exceptional knowledge of music she has been chosen to assist Ellis Rhodes in directing the choral union productions. She has a splendid voice.

Mrs. Leona Steelhead, a professional accompanist, of Anaheim, is found at the piano at all rehearsals of "Robin Hood." She will, of course, also play the accompaniments at the public presentations of the opera. Mrs. Steelhead is a newcomer to Orange county.

Alfred W. Branch of Santa Ana, cast as Friar Tuck, received his musical education in England and has sung in Canada, the West Indies and in America. He has sung in various Santa Ana churches and taken part in other choral union productions. He has a rich baritone voice and a good stage presence.

Glenn Merrill of Anaheim, who is Little John in the forthcoming production, was a member of the Colorado College Glee club and has appeared in a number of musical productions in Los Angeles.

Cast as Sir Guy.

Will Gallienne, recently of Huntington Beach, now of Santa Ana, who has been cast as Sir Guy, was a member of the Lions' club quartet at the beach city and is now a singer at the First Christian church here.

The work of Raymond Miles, popular tenor of this city, who has the name part in the opera, is well known here and in other communities of the county. Miles has appeared in virtually every opera so far produced by the Orange County Choral union and in each part he has made new friends. His voice is sweet and clear.

Maurice Phillips, who plays the Sheriff of Nottingham, is another indefatigable choral union worker who needs no introduction to music lovers of this community. He also has appeared in numerous choral union productions. Parts that stand out prominently in the list of his achievements are those of Dick Dead-Eye in "H. M. S. Pinafore" and Koko in "The Mikado."

A feature of "Robin Hood" that is expected to score a distinct success is the Mild Mayde chorus, consisting of Carrie Loh Sutherland, Mrs. La Rue Mayer, Miss Clara Kellogg, Mrs. A. E. Knipe and Miss Lucille Harral.

"Since her fourteenth year Miss Lenhart has been engaged in dramatic work—not common-place dramas, but dramas of a type stamping her as unique in her profession. For several seasons she devoted herself to directing and taking leads in plays in her home city, Pittsburgh."

Nelson says the entertainer will present here a highly interesting program of miscellaneous numbers.

IOWA CORN CROP

DES MOINES, Nov. 6.—Government estimates place the Iowa corn crop at 426,000,000 bushels. The December 1 price is expected to be close to 60 cents, which would give the crop a value of $255,600,000.

AIM TO REVIVE SPEED TRAP IS GIVEN BLOW

Score of Motorists Haled Into Justice Court May Get Freedom at Once

Reported efforts to revive the speed trap in this vicinity as a means of procuring evidence against automobile speeders appeared doomed to a setback, with a declaration today by Justice J. B. Cox that he would refuse to recognize speed trap evidence.

As the result, approximately a score of complaints against speeders who were said to have been arrested Sunday by state motorcycle officers using speed traps appeared slated for prompt dismissal tomorrow when laid before the local magistrate.

"I must follow the law and the law says that speed trap evidence is inadmissible," said Justice J. B. Cox today.

Defines Stand.

"This court is not a court of record. It must be guided by the decisions of other courts and by the law. I cannot do anything other than prescribed by law and, therefore, I must dismiss any complaint based upon speed trap evidence."

State motorcycle officers could not be reached today to verify the report that speed traps actually were used in making the arrests. As the arrests were all made in Santa Ana township, it would be necessary to cite the defendants into Justice Cox's court.

Notifies Officers.

Justice Cox stated he had notified the officers he would dismiss complaints involving speed traps. The course of the latter, therefore, was awaited with interest, in the event that the Sunday arrests came under such classification.

Likewise, the attitude of other justice courts in this county toward any possible revival of the speed trap was being watched closely, in view of the local magistrate's position.

PLAY INTERPRETER
DUE HERE FRIDAY

Selma Lenhart, interpreter of modern plays, at the Frances E. Willard junior high school Friday evening, will offer the next entertainment on the junior high school course. It was announced today by H. G. Nelson, principal of the Julia Lathrop junior high school. This will be the second number in the course.

"As an interpreter of plays, Miss Lenhart has established herself firmly in the vanguard of lyceum and chautauque entertainers," said Nelson today. "That her reputation, only a few years ago provincial, has become national, is evidenced by a thirty-week tour this season."

"Since her fourteenth year Miss Lenhart has been engaged in dramatic work—not common-place dramas, but dramas of a type stamping her as unique in her profession. For several seasons she devoted herself to directing and taking leads in plays in her home city, Pittsburgh."

ARMISTICE DAY PAGEANT MEET TONIGHT TO OUTLINE DETAILS

Everybody's working on the Armistice day parade plans at Orange! Here we have, left to right, Miss Lela Carlson, secretary to the Armistice parade committee; Malcolm Kilgore, World War veteran who is doing his bit to help make the parade a success; Miss Lela McDanel, assistant to the secretary of the Orange Chamber of Commerce; Jess J. Beam, also a World War veteran who is deeply interested in the success of the parade plans; and Miss Louis Campbell, stenographer at the Chamber of Commerce, Orange.

WANTS SCHOOLS DESIGNATED BY FULL NAME

Successful, after determined efforts, in having Santa Ana's two junior schools named after noted American women, members of the Julia C. Lathrop junior high school Parent-Teacher association today were endeavoring to educate pupils of the institutions, as well as the general public, in referring to the schools by their full names.

Feeling that this may be done only by creating a love and loyalty for the names, members of the association urged persons to speak of the schools as the Julia C. Lathrop junior high school and the Frances E. Willard junior high school or the Willard boys and girls.

While declaring he had no desire to combat efforts in this regard of the Parent-Teacher association, the Rev. W. E. Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, whose son is a student at the Julia C. Lathrop school, expressed the opinion that many untoward complications easily may arise from insistence that the full names of the schools be used.

Foresees Embarrassment.

The Rev. Mr. Roberts said he could foresee a certain amount of embarrassment on the part of the football team of the schools if the word "Julia" or "Willard" and filing it back in taunt.

With final details to be worked out at a dinner to be given in the basement of the city hall in Orange at 6:30 tonight, Major H. G. Upham, in charge of arrangements for the great Armistice day pageant scheduled for Orange, next Monday morning, announced today indications are that this pageant will prove one of the most successful ventures of the kind ever attempted in Southern California.

According to Major Upham, more than eighty floats will be in line when the respective entrants line up for the start at 10 a. m., with the schools of the county, the American Legion, fraternal organizations, Boy and Girl Scouts and many other units featured in the colorful floats and decorated automobiles.

3000 To Participate

Upham said preparations will be made to entertain 40,000 spectators. Fully 3,000 men, women and children will have active parts in the great pageant, Upham said, with six bands and two drum corps furnishing a lively accompaniment.

"Tonight," Upham explained, "the arrangements committee, acting as host to Legion executives, newspaper men, Chamber of Commerce secretaries and all others interested in making the parade a success, will explain in detail the plan we hope to be able to follow next Monday. Fully forty guests, including representatives of virtually every newspaper in the county, will be entertained by the committee at this time."

SAYS HOSPITAL WOULD MARK PROGRESS

Pointing out that a new hospital here would be a natural step in the rapid development of a growing community, the Santa Ana Valley Hospital association today issued a statement, prepared by a prominent local physician, elaborating on this view, as follows:

"One of the outstanding features of Santa Ana, deeply impressing the prospective citizen, is its beauty. Its inviting home surroundings, beautiful and impressive schools, ample evidence of spiritual atmosphere and its modern progressive business developing amply to give the desired service, all are conducive to a just pride in us and duly impress the observer."

"To maintain that impression and conviction of community consideration, and to sustain our stride of progress, we should have a larger hospital. A new, modern, fireproof hospital will help maintain the necessary efficiency in preserving the most valuable thing of any community—its health. Sickness or accidents of many kind require hospital care, but, like the savings account in the bank, you can't use what isn't. Like saving for a rainy day, the best health policy we can adopt for adequate care of our loved ones, is a provision for proper hospital facilities."

"At present our facilities under ordinary conditions are sorely taxed—quite inadequate for any increased call. Now is the time to step ahead and abreast of progressive communities with a new hospital; one you would be glad to put your loved ones in when they need care—a hospital that is fireproof and modern."

"It will reflect our community pride, show our ability to care for one another and demonstrate that we have an ideal community in the ideal home spot of the world."

Cow's Hoof Shows Hiding Place of Loot

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 6.—Police were advised that four boys found a box buried near Jonesboro, Ill., containing $22,000 stolen in the robbery of the State bank at Elkhart, Ill., August 17, 1919.

The boys were climbing a grape vine when they saw a cow's hoof sink in soft earth. The boys investigated and unearthed the metal container.

GOVERNOR JOINS IN CAMPAIGN ON WETS

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 6.—Charging that the violation of the national prohibition amendment in some cities of California has been "open and notorious," Governor Richardson issued a statement urging public officials of the state to co-operate in enforcing the dry law.

The statement, in a way, is a plea by Governor Richardson to President Coolidge to aid him in enforcing constitutional prohibition in the states. In giving out the statement the governor's secretaries said Richardson wanted to co-operate with the president.

"Pussyfooting public officials," who are charged with having dodged the liquor question, are taken to task in the governor's statement, and are urged to go "on record without equivocation or evasion." The governor said the "bootleggers and their criminal associates must be stopped from plying their nefarious trade."

Superior Tone Quality Is Sonora's Paramount Feature

Sonora's superior tone quality has been the paramount factor in creating the widespread demand for this distinctive instrument. Combining a series of scientifically correct construction features—more thoroughly insulated reproducer, all-brass, correctly proportioned tone arm and laminated, all-wood amplifier—enables Sonora to reproduce all recordings with utmost fidelity, even to the smallest detail of interpretation. Ask us to demonstrate these superior construction features.

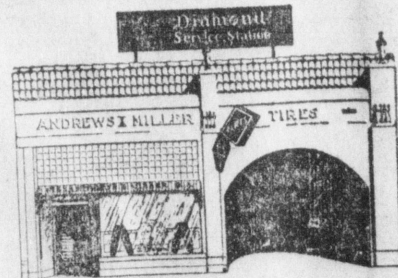

—The Queen Anne Model pictured here is priced at a remarkably moderate figure—$275. And at this low price we will also give terms.

—Sonora Phonographs are represented in Orange County at Shafer's Music House exclusively.

A Lecture On Christian Science

Entitled
CHRISTIAN SCIENCE: THE SO-LUTION OF THE WORLD'S PROBLEMS
By John Randall Dunn, C. S. E.
Of Boston, Massachusetts

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass.

You have noticed many times, without doubt, a certain inscription over exits from buildings and cars which reads: "This Way Out." Often have I wished that I might write below this the words "Christian Science." For every student of this great subject realizes more and more that the understanding and practical application of the Science of Christianity affords the only definite way out of the many problems which confront and perplex humanity today.

Nineteen centuries ago the great Teacher of Nazareth pointed the way out of human discords, and rightfully has ever been called "The Way-shower." But have mortals really accepted Jesus as the practical Way-shower out of aught but sin? Have they looked on him as the greatest healer of disease that the world has ever known? Have they realized that on the shores of the Galilean lake were given scientific laws which, when put into operation, would solve here and there the knotty problems of human existence, of capital and labor, of supply and demand, problems of men and of nations? In a word, have mortals been turning naturally to the teachings of Jesus to find present-day salvation from evil?

Present-Day Salvation
If a bit of personal reminiscence is permissible, I would say that our family, though conscientious church-goers always, never supposed their sense of Christianity capable of supplanting their quinine and calomel in a case of sickness. Such a thought would have been labeled as speedily as far-fetched and not common sense. Quite unconsciously, I am sure, we exemplified the sentiment of the man who said that religion was an excellent thing if not carried too far, and was not allowed to interfere with the practical affairs of life. But before long enough and not carry over to permeate the innermost details of daily experience, we encountered seemingly unsolvable problems of sickness, of lack, and other forms of inharmoniousness. It was not an uncommon sight to see a member of our church, who had been called promptly to bed, and call for some strong medicine to enable her to overcome a severe headache caused by overwrought emotions. We knew not in those days that emotionalism was the product of the carnal mind, and not the product of the divine Mind, and that the simple, sweet message of Christ Jesus should lead to peace and still the turbulent emotions. In fact the good news brought by Christian Science to a suffering world is that a scientific understanding of the teachings of Jesus of Nazareth can begin this very day to untangle many human problems, that Christianity must not only save men from a future hell, but from a present hell—the hell of sickness, lack, fear, hate, and all its unlovely etceteras; that heaven, the reign of harmony, is possible in ever-increasing degree here and now.

An Instance of Jesus' Healing
Let us consider for a moment one of the many examples given us in the Scriptures of Jesus' simple, and yet to our sense marvelous, handling of a problem of sickness. Take one of his early healings as recorded in Luke's gospel. He is besought to help the mother of Simon's wife, who is seemingly gravely ill. Apparently the Master makes no inquiries as to the symptoms, does not ask for the cause of the malady, nor does he desire to take her temperature or feel her pulse. Let us see what happened, as recorded by Luke. "And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her: and immediately she arose and ministered unto them." There was no period of convalescence, no gradual abating of the fever, nor slow recovery of strength, and the great Healer did not caution her about her diet and warn her not to eat too much. "Immediately she arose and ministered unto them!" In the records of its four thousand years medicine cannot find such an astounding cure of fever wrought through any of its material methods. And yet Christ Jesus did not use any material thing. He rebuked the fever—the fever, please notice, and not the woman. Now a word is only the audible expression of a thought; hence that which brought about this remarkable healing was wholly mental—in other words, it was something which the Master thought or understood.

How Did Jesus Heal the Sick?
This mighty understanding we see rebuking unclean spirits, healing epilepsy and all manner of disease; we see it stilling storms; enable Jesus to walk on the water, to feed the multitude, and even to raise the dead. Perhaps the saddest and most grievous error which scholastic theology makes is the relegating of these demonstrations of Jesus' control over evil and materiality to the realm of the miraculous. Theology excuses its failure to do these works on the ground that Jesus was God, and his acts therefore supernatural; notwithstanding the fact that the Master plainly said that of himself he could do nothing, that it was the Father dwelling in him that did the works, and that those who truly believed on him (understood him) would be able to do the things that he did and even greater things. Therefore the all-important question before Christian people today is, Can we as professed followers of the Master do the works which he did? Can we think his thoughts today, and begin to solve our problems by his method? What was it that Jesus thought or understood when he rebuked fevers, stilling storms, overcame lack, and subdued materiality?

Mrs. Eddy's Healing Experiences.
These questions began to form themselves in the thought of Mary Baker Eddy at an early age. She has written that she would listen with joy to the assurance of her spiritually-minded mother that God was a deeply religious child, and was able to raise her up from sickness (Science and Health, p. 359). And she not only had proofs of this with herself, but on one occasion when a mere slip of a girl, she subdued an insane man. It seems that an escaped lunatic rushed into the schoolyard where the little Mary Baker was playing. The man was violent, brandishing above his head a club. The children fled in terror—all but Mary Baker. She walked quietly up to him and took his hand. Instantly his manner changed. The club, and the club dropped to his side, and he walked with her quietly to the gate. In later years Mrs. Eddy had learned the Christian Science had lighted in its fulness upon her thought, a woman brought her child to Mrs. Eddy, laid it on her knees, and begged her to ask God to cure its blindness. "Mrs. Eddy has stated that she lifted her child to its mother, assuring her that God is able to keep his children. The mother looked at the child's eyes and they were healed." (The Life of Mary Baker Eddy by Sibly Wilbur, p. 70.)

The Discovery of Christian Science
It can be seen plainly that the idea of Christian healing had been budding throughout Mrs. Eddy's earthly experience, and therefore it was perfectly natural years after, when she found herself near the gates of death, again to turn her thoughts towards spiritual aid. She called for the Bible and opened to the ninth chapter of Matthew. As she read the story of the healing of the man sick of the leprosy, the great truth for which she had been searching all her life began to dawn upon her thought. She began to touch the hem of the garment of the healing Christ, and to glimpse the answer to the age-old question, "What is truth?" In that glorious moment, and in the months and years of consecrated searching and praying that followed, there was unfolded to Mrs. Eddy Jesus' method of healing, what Jesus must have thought and understood and practiced. In proof of this she not only found herself well, but with this understanding she was able to heal others. In fact, many of Mrs. Eddy's demonstrations of healing are as remarkable as those which are recorded in the Acts of the apostles. Of such healings she speaks in her writings very briefly and modestly, but we find that cancer, consumption, hip disease, insanity, the morphia and opium habits, and many other forms of sin and sickness all went down speedily before her realization of the might and glory of the Word of God.

The Christian Science Textbook
Then came the sharing with the world her discovery, and in the textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," and in what are now called her lesser writings, we find revealed the Science by which Jesus, the apostles, and the prophets unquestionably did their mighty works. The best of Christian Science lectures would consist simply in reading to you from these inspired books; but the Bible and Mrs. Eddy's writings should be studied, pondered, and prayed over rather than given only the hasty consideration possible in the few moments allotted for this lecture. If any who listen to this message are led to become sincere students of these God-inspired writings, our time today will have been well spent; for the man, woman, or child who is willing to study Mrs. Eddy's works and begin to put into practice the truths he learns therein, stands indeed at the threshold of a new life. In Science and Health, (p. 224) we read: "A higher and more practical Christianity, and the needs of mortals in sickness and in health, stands at the door of this age, knocking for admission. Will you open or close the door upon this angel visitant, who cometh in the quiet of meekness, as he came of old to the patriarch at noonday?"

The Christian Science Practitioner
"But," may say some one at this point, "I know of a case that Christian Science did not save. How do you account for that?" The textbook gives the answer very simply and directly. It says: "If you fail to succeed in any case, it is because you have not demonstrated the life of Christ. Truth, more in your own life, because you have proved the Principle of divine Science" (p. 149). Christian Scientists admit with regret, but not discouragement, their failure to measure up to the Christ-ideal in all cases. However, they are overwhelmingly grateful for the progress already made, and ask mankind to be patient while they strive for that reflection of infinite Love which will melt away the mist of mortal belief, and reveal the harmonious man of God's creating.

The Christian Scientist not Discouraged Picture, if you will, a life-saver heroically battling with the waves in the effort to pull ashore a shipwrecked man or woman. Then imagine, if you can, others standing on the shore, and instead of encouraging the rescuer and assisting in the grand work of rescue, jeering and taunting the rescuer, criticizing his methods and predicting disaster. A rather unthinkable picture, is it not? And yet this very thing happens in thousands of instances daily when some earnest Christian Scientist attempts the work of rescue for a shipwrecked brother or sister. Material medicine scoffs, old theology hurls its anathema, the worldly-minded sneer and shrug their shoulders; and, in spite of all this, the sick and sinning and heart-broken are being rescued in ever-increasing numbers. What glorious quick healing work may we expect to see with increased consecration on the part of practitioner and patient, and a lessened hatred and intolerance with the onlooking brethren not of our fold. So the the desired information could be forwarded to them, are common, the auditor added.

Some of the opinions expressed by the taxpayers are more forceful than elegant, Jerome revealed, in citing a recent letter from a San Bernardino woman who had invested in Orange county oil lots. The letter follows:

"Dear Sir: We got a notice on the syndicate at the Huntington Beach has been sold to the state for taxes. 'Will you please send us information about this. In the first place our agreement reads that the taxes on this piece of land. 'Quite a number of us have stopped at the Santa Ana court-house to pay these taxes and we were told that 'Another thing we would like to know why these taxes are so high. We can't see any value on it and we are not getting anything out of it. This piece of land was cut up into 2,500 pieces or shares. Why there is not enough land to bury a decent cat on! The real honest taxes ought to be 5 cents and you know it!'

Has Many Notes.
"We have been swindled to such an extent that we had to appeal to the federal courts for justice. 'Why do some people take such delight in defrauding their fellow man?'

"Washington has sent quite a number of men to handle the crooks. I hope they chase them all out so honest people have a chance to live. 'Yours truly, 'I have some more letters here I might show you.' Jerome told a reporter, 'but they're so illegible that I don't know, myself, what they are all about.'

BOGUS CHECKS LAND GAY YOUTH IN CELL

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Jerome Bernstein of Chicago wanted to know the real facts about night life in Hollywood, and whether or not it was all it was cracked up to be. He found out.

And now he is in the city prison, wondering just how he's going to explain away several thousand dollars' worth of bogus checks whereby he paid for his personal investigations.

Jerome, who says he's 24 in his breath and that he's still a Chicago high school student in the other, told of the son of M. D. Bernstein, who, he says, is a wealthy department store owner back in Chicago.

When faced with arrest, Bernstein tried to leap from his hotel room window. Overpowered, he broke into tears, and vowed his father would make good the checks he had written.

He told of leaving Chicago with several thousand dollars of his own money, of spending that with "wild women" in Los Angeles, and of finally resorting to bad check passing to get funds for further partying.

There are five separate bad check charges against him here, and the police of Los Angeles and other cities want him, they wire.

The youth stopped at the best hotels in Los Angeles and en route here, paying all expenses with bogus paper, according to police.

Man Slays Self Over Grave of Dead Love

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Grieving over the death of a woman he loved, Frank Porter, aged 35, shot himself through the heart over the grave of his wife, Mamie Watson in Cypress Lawn cemetery. Porter had been devoted to Mrs. Watson, a widow, for years, and since her death nearly a year ago, had made weekly pilgrimages to her grave.

Last Christmas day, when he returned from an out-of-town trip, Porter found that his sweetheart of many years, had died during his absence. Porter was 53, and resided at 309 Laguna street.

Christian Science life-saver refuses to be dismayed or discouraged. He is grateful that he is doing as well as he is, and prays for understanding and grace to do better work in the future.

'Hoodoo' $2 Bill Is Ground for Damage Suit Asking $5000

DENVER, Nov. 6.—A "hoodoo" $2 bill which somehow found its way into the till of A. J. Recht, Arrada merchant, on June 30 was the indirect cause of a suit for $5,000 damages filed against him in the federal district court by Maria Hernandez, Mexican, resident of Jefferson county.

Mrs. Hernandez, in her bill of complaint, charges that on June 30 she bought goods to the value of $1.40 at the Recht store. She says she tendered for these goods a $5 bill, and received change.

After she had left the store and was proceeding on her way home she relates, Recht over took her and demanded $3, claiming that she had given him a $2 bill instead of a $5 note.

Mrs. Hernandez was then forced to return to the store, she says, where Recht, his wife, Anna, and son, Albert W., "denounced her as a liar when she maintained that she had given a $5 bill, threatened her with arrest, and further frightened her by locking her in the store while the deputy sheriff was sent for" the complaint reads.

She finally was released, but due to her terrifying experience, she suffered serious permanent injury, she states, for which punitive damages of $5000 are asked.

Mrs. Recht and Albert W. Recht are named as co-defendants. Recht states that unless Mrs. Hernandez gave him the $2, he is unable to explain its presence in his till.

of disrespect, either intentionally or actually," the Rev. Mr. Roberts said. "Frequently the names of great and famous persons are given in just that way and no one minds it at all.

"The great universities of the world named for men use only the surname in their titles. No one ever refers to 'John Harvard' or 'Elihu Yale' universities. The students and alumni of Stanford rather resent the Leland Stanford Junior as attached to that university. Indeed the shortening of the name ordinarily is the mark of endearment. My own alma mater is Occidental college, but she is dearest to me as 'Old Oxy'."

Then again some complications may arise from an insistence on the use of the full name of Julia C. Lathrop. For instance, in the rendering of school yells and songs the students will find it much easier to put zip and pep and power into the name Lathrop alone, than in the full name.

"Again, I readily can foresee a certain measure of embarrassment on the part of the football team if the rosters on the opposing side should take a notion to play on the word 'Julia' and fling it back in taunt.

"Boys love the feminine, for they love their mothers, but they shrink from the very semblance of effeminacy. I should not like to have them put in the position of having to listen to some live bunch of rooters yell, 'Now, three for Julia.' I am not attempting to be facetious; on the contrary, I am very much in earnest for while some of the members of the Julia C. Lathrop junior high school Parent-Teacher association are members of boys, I am the father of one."

Caretaker Ends Life As Estate Is Sold

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Edward Barrett, 55, caretaker on the estate of the late J. H. Alexandre at Fort Wadsworth, Staten Island, was found hanging from a rafter of a barn on the estate.

Medical Examiner Mord said Barrett had been dead for three or four days.

Barrett had been employed on the estate for forty years in various capacities. The place was recently sold by the Alexandre family, and last week the furniture was removed.

Barrett was apparently despondent at the prospect of leaving his life-long place of employment.

Blind Yale Football Star Named Collector

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 6.—Although he is unable to read to figure, Perry Hale, Yale's former all-American football back, who has been blind for ten years, was elected town tax collector. He has been successful in insurance.

Hale played on Gordon Brown's eleven which created new high scoring records against Princeton and Harvard largely through Hale's line-smashing on the tackle back plays which were invented by Walter Camp that year.

Man and Wife In Scant Garb Jailed

OAKLAND, Nov. 6.—"Ef yoh gits up and gits dem sahdeens, Ah'll cut yoh throat wif dis yere razah, dat's all," threatened Henry Lancaster, from his bed in a lodging house at Sixth and Brush streets, West Oakland. The threat was aimed at Mrs. Ella Lancaster, his wife. Mrs. Lancaster insisted on emerging from the bed to eat a can of sardines. Whereupon Henry, true to his word, unlimbered his razor and started cheyving his spouse. The chase ended at Seventh and Market streets, when Policemen E. F. Murphy, George Pardee and J. H. Reedy, pried Lancaster from his wife. Both were nearly as naked as when they were born, so the policemen, embarrassed by the presence of a large audience, hastily tossed Henry and his wife into an automobile and dashed back to the Lancaster home for wearing apparel. After Henry and his wife were clothed the policemen took them to the Oakland city prison, where both were charged with disturbing the peace.

NOTICE INVITING BIDS

In pursuance of a Resolution of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Orange, State of California, adopted October 30th, 1923, directing this notice.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the said Board will receive, at its Chambers, at the Court House, at Santa Ana, in said county, at or before the hour of eleven o'clock a. m., on November 5th, 1923, sealed bids for the construction of a juvenile detention home, on Fruit Street near Grand Avenue, Santa Ana, California. A General Contract, B-Steam Heating Contract.

The bids must be addressed to the Board of Supervisors, Orange County, California; the work to be done in accordance with the plans and specifications adopted by the Board of Supervisors on file in the office of the Board in the Court House; each bidder must submit with his proposal a satisfactory check certified by a responsible bank and payable to the order of the County of Orange, or a bidder's bond for an amount not less than five per cent. (5%) of the aggregate sum of the bid, as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the proposed contract if the same is awarded to him, and in the event of failure to enter into such contract, said check or bond shall become the property of the County.

The amount of the bond to be given to secure the faithful performance of the contract for said work shall be twenty-five per cent. (25%) of the contract price thereof, and an additional bond in an amount equal to fifty per cent. (50%) of the contract price for said work shall be given to secure the payment of claims for any material or supplies furnished for the performance of the work contracted to be done by the Contractor, or any work or labor of any kind, thereon, and also will be required to furnish a certificate that he carries compensation insurance to be done under the contract which may be entered into between him and the said County for the building of said juvenile detention home.

Copies of plans and specifications will be furnished intending bidders upon application to Frederick H. Eley, Architect, Santa Ana, California. A deposit of $25.00 will be required for such copies, such deposit to be refunded when the plans and specifications are returned to the Architect at the time stipulated and in good condition.

The Board of Supervisors reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

By order of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Orange, State of California.

ANNEXATION OF COSTA MESA PROPOSED

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 6.—Despite the fact that numerous rumors have been circulated about this city concerning the possibility of the annexation of Costa Mesa to this city, a surprise was sprung at the meeting of the board of trustees Monday night when V. C. Spencer, prominent resident of Costa Mesa, appeared before the board and spoke on the possibility of annexation.

"I know that there is somewhat of a factional fight in this city and we on the Mesa know what factional fights are, having experienced several of such ourselves," Mr. Spencer declared.

"We have been thinking for some time of annexation, but did not wish to take a plunge into the turbulent waters of this city until the question has been decided concerning the dumping of refuse from yachts into the bay where swimmers are enjoying themselves with an occasional dip."

"We wish that the board of trustees appoint an evening when they can come to the mesa and attend a meeting at the club and then explain to the citizens of the mesa what the advantages would be should we come into this city. We believe that it would be extremely beneficial to us especially in the matter of fire protection."

Following Mr. Spencer's talk the board declared their willingness to attend such a meeting and plan to do so sometime next week. Spencer declared that he would confer with others at the mesa and would let the council know what date the meeting will be called.

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 6.—Although everything had quieted down and people of this city were quietly awaiting the coming referendum and initiative election to be held here on November 20 concerning the oil pipe line question, a discussion at the board of trustee meeting Monday night showed that that body had not forgotten the question.

The general comment was "decidedly warm," and was marked with speeches and counter speeches including several members of the board. The discussion was held following the reading of a letter received from J. M. Fulkerson, one of the owners of the Newport Oil and Refining company, who requested the council to again look over the situation before the election.

In his letter Fulkerson declared that the referendum and initiative not only prevented the laying of an oil pipe line to ships but would hinder the development of an oil field in this district, and requested that the board of trustees have City Attorney Clyde Bishop give an opinion on the question.

City Attorney Bishop declared that there was nothing for the council to do because the question was now up to the people to decide but after reading the ordinance he declared that it was strictly prohibitive against any and all pipe lines that could be laid to load ships. It effects only those companies that would have to cross a street or public highway, he declared.

George Peabody, resident agent for the Parkinson syndicate, then questioned Mr. Bishop and asked him if in his opinion a private concern that owned land and a water front could build a pipe line on their private property and load their ships at their own water front.

Mr. Bishop then declared that in that case an individual could load ships from any of his oil wells on his private land and water front.

"That the supporters of the pipe line were jubilant at this was highly evident, and they consider it a victory over the faction opposed to the establishment of a pipe line, although it means that should the initiative carry it would prevent private individuals or water frontage companies from loading their ships at this section of the city which would be compelled to load their oil in some other way."

Several of the board of trustees bitterly expressed themselves against the initiative, declaring that it was throttling the possibility of an oil field here.

The new ordinance proposes as follows:

"An Ordinance of the city of Newport Beach, California, prohibiting the laying or installing in or upon any of the public streets, alleys or places of said city any pipe line or lines for transporting or delivering oil to any ocean going vessel or vessels for shipment to any other place or places, owning such installation or use a nuisance and prohibiting the granting of any permit or franchise for any such pipe line or lines and prescribing penalties for violation hereof."

TO ASK FOR BIDS. Newport Beach, Nov. 6.—City Clerk Alfred Smith was instructed at the meeting of the board of trustees Monday night to advertise for bids on two comfort stations to be erected at Balboa and East Newport. The bids are to be opened at the meeting of the board of trustees at the meeting November 19.

VACATION IS GRANTED. Newport Beach, Nov. 6.—The board of trustees at their regular meeting Monday night granted permission to John McMillen, city water superintendent, to take a two weeks' vacation starting November 12.

SEA RECEIVES MANY BOTTLES OF LIQUOR

By SAM MEYER

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 6.—Kegs of booze, flasks of brandy, bottles of "hooch" and containers of near-wine, went to a watery grave today when City Marshall J. A. Porter and his staff of John A. Porter and Jack Schilling destroyed stills and other bootleg paraphernalia off the end of the Newport pier.

The illicit collection from raids made during the past year disappeared with a gurgling sound into the maw of Judge Hall's sea cannon. One bottle of "White Mule" emitted a roar as it hit the ocean waves and kicked at the several sea serpents who attempted to grab it. A shovel-nosed shark became entangled in the meshes of coils and pipe, evidently under the impression that it was Frank Claudina's Jew fishhook.

A crowd of sea-eyed mortals gathered to watch the destruction of many gallons of booze and every time a two-footed policeman smashed down a quart bottle of nice-looking Scotch, a groan could be heard from some portion of the grandstand.

As the officers were about to cast the sturdy enemy kegs into the deep several persons stepped from the crowd and asked to have them used as water receptacles. As those who wanted them were all permitted the prohibition family, the request was granted.

Surf fish, lobster, Spider crabs and even Stingray, gathered in their schools and one could easily hear their gills guzzling the unexpected treat.

On indignat bystander hurled a bottle at a lobster, which neatly caught it, tuck it in its neck up and permitted the contents to trickle down where its throat should be.

And when the affair was over the crowd trekked its way sadly back toward shore, with only the whisper of the wild sea waves to harken them and the ribald laughter of its denizens echoing in their ears.

Old Maids Miserable, Claims Ex-Governor

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 6.—"The future of the country depends on the home. Never was there a time when affairs of the home were taken so lightly as by Americans today. The most un-derstandable of the world today is the old maid of 40 and the bald-headed bachelor comes next."

These were the sentiments expressed regarding domestic affairs by W. L. Harding, former governor of Iowa, in his address before the annual banquet of the Michigan Real Estate association here.

Harding, who presided at the convention here.

Shark Eats Young to Save Them from Harm

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Passengers of the steamship "Tolosa," which arrived here from southern ports, told the story of a man-eating shark that protected her three young by swallowing them off Limon after she had taken a hook thrown out by the ship's butcher. The shark was landed, together with two pilot fish which were clinging to her, and when she was cut open, three young sharks were found in her stomach, still alive.

MRS. HICKEY SO WEAK COULD HARDLY STAND

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health

Worcester, Mass. — "I had some trouble caused by a female weakness and I got so run-down and weak from it that I could hardly stand or walk across the floor. The doctor gave me all kinds of pills, but nothing helped me. I happened to meet a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I thought I would try it. After taking it a week I began to improve, and now I feel fine and am doing all of my housework, including washing, sewing and house cleaning. I have recommended your medicine to my friends and I am willing for you to use this letter as a testimonial as I would like to help any one suffering the way I did from such a weakness." — Mrs. DELIA HICKEY, 4 S. Ludlow St., Worcester, Mass.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. This book contains valuable information.

MOTORISTS AT ORANGE ARE GIVEN TAGS

ORANGE, Nov. 6.—Marking the first of a series of wholesale arrests in connection with the campaign now in motion to enforce the provisions of the state motor vehicle law, fifteen warrants for the arrest of alleged offenders were issued yesterday by Justice of Peace G. W. Ingle on complaint of County Motor Officer Louis J. Heffner, arresting officer.

Heffner, in his complaints, cites the motorists with driving on the state highway with improperly adjusted headlights which, he alleges, cast glaring, dazzling rays in the eyes of approaching motorists.

The fifteen technical arrests were made on September 22, when the respective motorists were presented with citations, ordering them to have their lights regulated within the next 24 hours.

Although a number of the motorists named in the warrants issued today are believed to have obeyed the order, a majority it was said, will probably be unable to show light testing certificates indicating that they had the matter attended to.

"Those who cannot show certificates that they have had their headlights adjusted will be haled into court, fined," Judge Ingle announced on issuing the warrants this morning. "Others, who have obeyed the citations, will merely be dismissed."

In case where citations, ordering motorists to have their lights adjusted, are not obeyed within the stipulated time, warrants for arrest are issued within thirty days, the officers announced.

The fifteen motorists, who will be served with court summons within the next few days, have been allowed an additional ten days before the warrants were finally issued, it was said.

Those named in the warrants are A. W. Jackson, La Habra; H. Lucas, Anaheim; Mrs. R. V. Cook, Anaheim; J. M. Vollmer, Orange; J. C. McIntosh, Placentia; Estaban Villalobos, Orange; B. N. Snow, Santa Ana; T. Yunque, Orange; C. J. Rowe, La Habra; Ray Whitney, Santa Ana; Delbert Walker, Fullerton; H. J. Osborne, Fullerton; C. E. Ayers, Santa Ana; Arthur Spitzack, Santa Ana.

The warrants, charging a misdemeanor are to be served within the next few days.

Painter Falls to Death As Train Tips Scaffold

HOBOKEN, N. J., Nov. 6.—John Schreyer, 60, 214 River street, Hoboken, a painter, was killed at the Summit avenue station of the Hudson and Manhattan railroad in Jersey City.

He was on a scaffold hoisting himself up the side of the station and a rope was hanging down.

The Long Branch express of the Pennsylvania railroad, which runs close to the station, sped past and the rope caught on the engine or a car.

A PUZZLE A DAY

Can a darling corporal ask a grave general for a cigar? Unquestionably, he can. But probably he won't get it; and what he is likely to get is another story. The puzzle, however, is to find three names concealed in the sentence: the name of a country; of a vast territory; and of a city in India. The names are there, in plain view. The problem is to find them.

Yesterday's answer:

I HAVE NO LOVING TENDERS TO DARN MY SOCKS. NO SWEET FACE ACROSS MY BREAKFAST TABLE. I TELL YOU, DORA, MARRIED FOLKS HAVE ALL THE BEST OF IT.

SAY, WILLIAM, WHAT ARE YOU HUNTING AT?

WHY, DORA, GONE IT, DORA, I'M ASKING YOU TO MARRY ME.

MISSING REPTILE LINK DISCOVERED

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 6.—Fredrick K. Morris of New York, member of the Roy Chapman Andrews party of American scientists who have secured proof of the existence of the dinosaur egg in the wilds of Mongolia, arrived here from the Far East aboard the Empress of Russia, bringing with him skeletons of titanotheriidae and other fossilized remains of prehistoric importance to science. This discovery is of the greatest importance to the study of the evolution of the great reptilian monsters of prehistoric ages.

Morris declared the party, with Kaigan, in the south of Tushetu, as a base, penetrated 2000 miles by automobile, camel and wagon in a general tour of exploration of the province last year. This year the party took to the field in the southern portion of Tushetu.

They found what had been predicted, one of the world's richest fields of fossilized remains, they said. In the rocks near the Altai mountains, the party discovered perfect skeletons of the titanotheriidae. One skeleton was found where lay a nest of nine eggs. The eggs, believed to be the first discovered in the world, were split open. Sand had filtered in to become stone, thus preserving the shell intact. In one egg was an embryonic dinosaur in perfect form. In all the party found upwards of 70 skeletons, complete or fractional, and 25 eggs of the prehistoric monsters.

Of interest to scientists the party found a dinosaur with its collar of plated bones of a new form that is intermediary to all former discoveries, he stated. It forms the missing link between the horned and the unhorned reptiles known to the world before. It was asserted by Morris that it was the ancestor of a similar race found on the American continent.

Founder of Deadwood Dies In New England

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 6.—Charles Parker Darling died at his home, 130 Doyle avenue, aged 56 years 1 month and 13 days. Born in Douglas, Mass., he was a pioneer in the West from 1850 to 1880. He founded the C. P. Darling Box Manufacturing, which he conducted here for thirty years.

At the age of 24 he emigrated to Galena, Ill., and lived for a time in Iowa and Minnesota. During the panic of 1857 he removed to California, where he engaged in gold mining. He was one of the founders of Deadwood, S. D.

EVENING SALUTATION

HE that sympathizes in all the happiness of others perhaps himself enjoys the safest happiness, and he that is warned by all the folly of others has perhaps attained the soundest wisdom.—Colton.

GIVE OFFICIALS A SQUARE DEAL

Your city trustee and your county supervisor have a right to expect fair play from you, just as you have a right to expect fair play from them. It is quite the easiest thing in every day life to criticize a public official, to denounce hotly some act of his, to say some thoughtless, unfair thing.

There are communities and counties, to be sure, where officials by exhibitions of unfair dealings have laid themselves open to suspicion on any and every occasion. But there has been nothing in the official life of Santa Ana or of Orange county to warrant suspicion of ulterior motives. If there is a county or city in the state that is free from a history of unpleasant incidents such as give foundations for suspicions of graft and crooked dealing, its name is unknown to The Register.

Therefore, instead of suspicion our city trustees and our county supervisors are entitled to our confidence. Their records as private citizens and as public officials make it certain that their impulses and their studied efforts are all directed toward integrity and square dealing in their public acts.

But sometimes when some matter that is before a city council or before a board of supervisors does not go to our liking, we are prone to "light into" the public body or some member of it upon whom we, in our minds, put the responsibility for what the public body did. Over the back fence, to our neighbor, with warmth we declare the thing that was done to be an outrage, that the public officials responsible for it are a pack of fools, and what's this town coming to anyhow. We'd like to know, by Jingo, what they're getting out of forcing a paving down on us.

And away we go, casting slurs and suspicions, when, honestly, in our hearts we know that there is no graft, that the public officials are doing their plain duty as they see it—and that is exactly what we elected them to do.

As residents of Santa Ana and of Orange county, we owe it to our officials and, equally to ourselves, to know both sides of a question before we start "taking the hide off" of the officials. When, unjustly and unfairly, we destroy anyone's confidence in the good judgment and fair mindedness of an official, who suffers? Not only the official, but the rest of us as well. Unfair criticism hampers the public official in doing the very things he ought to do for our benefit.

Our experience with Santa Ana trustees and Orange county supervisors in Orange county is that their intentions are right, and that their actions are uniformly based on sound judgment and worth while experience. More than that, we have found them perfectly willing to take their time—and most of them have to give far more hours of their time than most of us realize—to go into details explaining both sides of a controversy. And when we hear both sides it is very seldom indeed that we find ourselves differing very radically from either city trustees or county supervisors.

Citizens in general will get out of a city just what they put into it. They can't get something worth while for nothing anywhere.

CHILDREN'S CHANCE FOR LIFE

What is the safest city in America for a baby to be born in? That is, in what city will it have the best chance for life? According to a report of the American Child Health Association for last year, if only the 25 largest cities in the country are considered, it is Seattle. The infant mortality rate there—the yearly number of deaths under one year, for every thousand births—was only 49.

The Northwest in general shares this proud distinction. Minneapolis and Portland were not far behind, with a mortality rate of 53 and 56 respectively. San Francisco was a close fourth.

Western states show the best average for cities of over 10,000 population, in the following order of distinction: Oregon, Washington, Minnesota, California and Nebraska.

All this is matter for local pride, and for envy in less fortunate places. More important, however, than any question of sentiment is the question of cause. It would be worth a great deal of inquiry to find out exactly why babies have a better chance in cities and states mentioned than they have elsewhere.

Some of it, no doubt, is climate; but that cannot be all. Much must have been done by human agencies which other communities could emulate, whatever their climatic or geographic situation.

The French government is perfectly willing to reopen the subject of reparations, provided everybody will agree beforehand not to change anything.

REWARDS OF AUTHORSHIP

Publishers' records show that a "best seller" nowadays may reasonably expect to earn for the author, in book royalties and serial rights, $100,000, with more in sight if the novel is well adapted to dramatization or movie production. But best sellers, as everybody knows, are a small part of the vast fiction output. The 99 per cent of authors, including those who earn a fair living from their work, are said to average about $520 a book.

There is surely little in these figures to encourage aspiring young writers, unless they are confident of their own powers or regard literary success as a mere gamble worth a hundred-to-one shot. The record means, to the great majority, loss of money, time and strength.

The more one thinks of these figures, and also the more one pores over the voluminous output of present-day fiction writers, the more the wonder grows that the writers do not take up some kind of work offering assurance of a steady living income—carpentry or bricklaying or housework, for instance, which demand a far shorter apprenticeship and provide greater financial reward and peace of mind.

As for real genius, there need be no worry about it thrusting through obstacles and making itself known.

HOW TO MAKE A BILLION

In a newly issued booklet, Northwestern University tells the American people how to make a billion dollars a year—or what is the same thing, how to save it. The process is simple. Just keep well.

A billion dollars, say the university's medical authorities, is a moderate estimate of the annual cost of illness in the United States. In Illinois alone there are 200,000 persons regularly on the sick list, and in the whole country, more than 3,000,000. To bring the cost of this wastefulness down to comprehensible figures, it is about $500,000 an hour.

A billion dollars a year, it may be observed, is fair interest on a principle of $20,000,000,000. Thus, if we merely stopped being sick, it would amount to cancelling our national debt, or making ourselves a present of about $1,000 per family.

It is worth while to be well? It certainly is, from the purely material point of view. And most people will agree that the pain, discomfort, boredom and general objectionableness of being sick are worse than the economic loss. Health is literally priceless.

But what can be done about it? "If preventive measures could be made available for the poorest communities as they are for the best," says the authorities referred to, "a reduction of from 10 to 25 per cent could be brought about in casual illness. At least $100,000,000 of the money lost each year in illness could be saved. Moreover, almost 250,000 deaths could be prevented."

This means more public attention to health. Still larger gains might be made if individuals in every community would live up to the simple health rules they know but fail to practice, regarding diet, ventilation, exercise, sleep and the avoidance of contagion.

What Are You Making?

—Long Beach Press

The innocent, curious inquiry of the little child who finds his mother busy in the kitchen, or his father in the shop, is often met with the nervous response:

"O, run along, and don't bother me."

No more effort would have been required in giving a simple, civil explanation; and both child and parent would have been happier in their more lovable relationship.

"What are you making?" is a question that needs to be answered in every mind. As with the pre-occupied mother, who does not mean to repulse her offspring, there may be a hesitancy to give a proper reply.

What are you making of yourself? A useful, productive member of society, or a drone and leech?

Are you making a record for industry, for honesty, for good citizenship? Is your example worthy to be followed by those in whom you recognize the possibilities of leadership?

Self-analysis such as this is beneficial to any man or woman or child who is sincerely striving to be of service to the world.

Perhaps every person cannot be a Franklin, or a Edison, but any man can do more than he is doing to improve civilization, to make this a better country, to promote the general welfare.

In a city of opportunity, such as Santa Ana, what are you doing to perfect conditions, to stimulate development, to make this a better community in which to live?

Fate of Mather Field

—Riverside Press

The following item from the Sacramento Bee regarding Mather Field will be read with interest in Riverside county:

Mather Field, once one of the most important flying fields in the United States, has been forsaken by the war department for fields where the flyers are closer to the bright lights.

The flying field, near this city, has dwindled until today only two officers and two enlisted men remain on duty there, where once 1200 officers and men were on hand, and the post is to be abandoned soon.

In spite of the fact that Mather Field was praised by air service experts as an ideal flying location, it has been passed up in favor of Crissy Field in San Francisco.

What is happening to Mather Field has happened to March Field, and yet the air service is maintaining a flying field of considerable importance at Santa Monica.

The explanations given for the transfer of flying activities from March Field to Santa Monica and from Mather Field to San Francisco have not been convincing. The reason suggested by the Bee is more than plausible.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

DO YOU DREAM MUCH?

Do you dream that you are in the midst of an exciting drama? The train is rushing toward the crossing and you are going to attempt to get by in your car before it arrives there?

Or are you in a street encounter and about to attack someone who has insulted you? Perhaps you are about to be attacked for a similar, or even different reason.

Or, it is an open field with an enraged bull at your heels.

Maybe it is none of the above, but you are in front of an audience of a thousand, or even one, and you are pouring forth your words from the very depths of your being.

Or, you may be the audience and you have been stirred as never before in your life.

You wake up and find—what?

That your heart is pounding, your forehead is wet with perspiration, and you are trembling like a leaf in the wind.

Now what about it?

I'm not going into a discussion of the theory of dreams. Some of the best nerve specialists have written volumes upon the significance of dreams.

Some of their ideas seem reasonable enough; but for the most part, the medical profession is still waiting to be shown.

But from the standpoint of that body of yours, what do dreams mean?

Simply that if your brain is going to be actively engaged, your entire body will not get the relaxation necessary to health.

I know that these dreams take but a short time as minutes go, but the effect is there just the same.

So, if you find that you seem to need more sleep than other members of the family, take an account of the number and extent of your dreams. Try to prevent them.

How?

By not eating or drinking before you retire. By trying to lie on either side instead of on the back. By rising when you wake in the morning, even if it is a half hour earlier than your usual hour. Remember a dreamless sleep is a restful sleep. A dreamful sleep often takes a lot out of you.

CARRY ME BACK TO OLD VIRGINNY

Carry me back to old Virginny,
There's where the cotton
And the corn and 'taters grow,
There's where the birds warble
Sweet in the springtime,
There's where this old darkey's
Heart does long to go.
There's where I labored so hard For old Massa
Day after day in the field
Of yellow corn.
No place on earth
Do I love more sincerely
Than old Virginny,
The place where I was born.

Carry me back to old Virginny,
There's where the cotton
And the corn and 'taters grow,
There's where the birds warble
Sweet in the springtime,
There's where this old darkey's
Heart does long to go.
(By permission Oliver Ditson Co.)

Stephen C. Foster is not the only white composer who has given us beautiful songs written in the negro manner. James A. Bland deserves to be remembered for one such song—"Carry Me Back to Old Virginny."

This ballad of a colored lad who loved old Virginia had fallen almost entirely into the realm of forgotten things before Alma Gluck came to its rescue. The popular soprano dug it out and made a talking machine record of it a few years ago. That revival, together with the increasing vogue of darkey songs, started a renaissance of the old time which has brought it into what seems a permanent popularity.

Other Songs

Although Bland's name is not as well known as Foster's, he wrote a great many of the popular successes of the 70's and 80's. For instance, he is the author and composer of "O Dem Golden Slippers," which had a great vogue some years back.

One reason for the enduring appeal of "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny" is that Virginia serves in it as a symbol of home—no matter where one's home may be. Many songs—even songs of home—are rollicking. "Carry Me Back" is wistful, reverent.

THINGS ENOUGH

That man can thank his lucky stars
Whose things to keep are few,
To which the moth and rain and rust
Find little harm to do;

A faith that makes his handshake warm
And simple things most wise;
A wife to make each morning sweet
With morning-glory eyes;

A love to make him foot green roads
Which others motor on;
A garden small and kind enough
To let him watch the dawn;

A pity for the hungry ones,
The ragged and ill-shod;
A tree that's tall and straight enough
To make him think of God.

Massive Muscle

By W. E. Allen, of La Jolla, California Biological Feature Service

Not long ago I picked up a magazine across the whole back cover of which sprawled the advertisement of a man who has for years been using more or less expensive magazine space in proclaiming his own assumed physical perfection and his infallible ability to lead others into similar condition.

Although his stale photograph (in use fifteen or twenty years according to my memory) occupied most of the page, there was room for some printed matter emphasizing the assertion that the reader could in a short time be equipped with "massive muscle." Presumably the picture was for the purpose of showing you and me what we might be made to look like, though just what use we would have for shoulders like hams, a neck like a post and a knob like head does not appear.

One of the most interesting points about this advertisement is the fact that the man has evidently accumulated large sums of money by thus glaringly exhibiting this picture. Otherwise he could not buy such expensive space. That shows that a great many people are impressed sufficiently to make them send money to him. And, in fact, there are few of us who do not, now and then, entertain a sneaking wish and secret desire for muscular equipment of enormous size and strength.

Surely, therefore, the subject has interest for all of us and requires at least a little attention. First, let us notice the general assertion of this man that massive muscle is beneficial. We may acknowledge that it is highly desirable for a man doing excessive heavy manual labor under certain trying conditions, or for one who exhibits himself for the wonder and admiration of his fellows. But, we may just as emphatically deny that it is desirable for the ordinary routine of life.

For one thing, greatly increasing the mass of muscle limits the range and ease of motion. There is only a small amount of space for movement about the joints and for most effective attachment to bones. Do you know a man with massive muscle who is graceful, or handsome, or who can do movements in as wide variety as a more slender man of active habits?

You naturally compare a man of massive type to the dray horse, or bear, or elephant, never to the thoroughbred or gazelle. Even on strength tests the man of excessive massive muscle is usually easily beaten by one of less massive type, but with better quality of muscle fiber better control and more favorable attachment to the bones.

For another thing, excess of some particular kind of tissue (or substance) in the body may be injurious in various ways. If a man whose bodily organization is best with one hundred pounds of muscle should increase that tissue up to one hundred and twenty pounds, the whole body would be thrown out of gear.

Twenty per cent more food must be provided for the muscles either at the expense of other structures of the body (e. g. the brain) or as the result of eating more food and thus throwing much more work upon the digestive organs and circulatory and gland systems. Furthermore, the additional muscular mass must be supplied with two or three (or more) sets of nerves, not to mention other equipment. This may afford partial explanation of the fact that men of massive muscle are not noted for keenness of mind.

In view of such facts and conditions, it is ridiculous for the ordinary individual to think of trying to cultivate massive muscle.

And, when one remembers how vastly individuals differ in general makeup, it becomes still more absurd. We are so well aware of these differences that we speak of them carelessly, mentioning one man as having a "wiry build" another as having a "heavy build" and still another as having an "athletic build." This is one case in which "common knowledge" is fairly accurate. There actually are such distinctions and many amount of correspondence, or other lessons, will give "massive muscles" to a man of "wiry build" in one month, or three months, or a life time.

Lastly, I may suggest that in the light of our increasingly better understanding of the influence of one part of the body upon others, through pressure, through wastes or through other dissolved materials which affect the blood flow or which change the composition of the blood, it seems possible (if not probable) that one who cultivates his muscles to a growth twenty per cent beyond their proper proportions, may injure the rest of the body by the increase of more or less poisonous substances circulating in the blood stream.

Perhaps excessive mass of muscle, or excessive exercise of muscle, may not only rob the brain (for example) of food, but it may also retard the work of the brain by sending poison to it.

Let the freaks have the spot light; the normal man, the well balanced man is the one really worth while.

JOHNNIE of the CIRCUS and his CUFFY BEAR ~

~ By ARTHUR SCOTT BAILEY

The Bearded Lady wanted Johnnie Green

To bring her ginger ale and peppermint.

A VERY PARTICULAR PERSON

Johnnie Green hurried into the side-show. There was a new Bearded Lady had joined the circus only the evening before. This was her first appearance in public.

That is, she was going to appear for the first time in Johnnie's Uncle Jim's show. But the Mighty European Circus was not the first with which Mrs. Puffer had to do. She was an old hand at the show business. She had been with shows, as she said, off and on for fifteen years.

Perhaps that was the reason Mrs. Puffer was very particular about certain things. When Johnnie entered the side-show tent, he found the Bearded Lady engaged in a heated argument with the lecturer. "I won't stand it," she was saying. "I won't be called a Rooshian—not if I have to leave the show."

"Well, now—ma'am!" said the lecturer. "You hadn't ought to feel that way. Here's the Wild Man. I always tell the crowd he comes from the African jungle. And he don't care."

But Mrs. Puffer shook her head and wagged her bearded chin with such persistence that the lecturer had to yield to her wishes.

Yet she wasn't satisfied. "There's another thing," she went on. "I don't like this platform you've given me."

"What's the matter with it?" the lecturer asked her.

"I want one near the entrance," said Mrs. Puffer, "where there'll be a breeze now and then to blow my whiskers about."

"All right!" the lecturer agreed. "You can change places with the Living Skeleton. He's always complaining about draughts."

"There's another thing," said the Bearded Lady, "I'd like to have this boy beside my platform. She pointed to Johnnie Green. "The hours are long while the show's on. There's all kinds of something or other that I'm likely to want. I may need a glass of water, or a peppermint; or I might like a sandwich or an apple. This boy could wait on me."

"That's a matter you'll have to take up with Mr. Brown," said the lecturer with a smile. "This kid is his nephew. He's a sort of guest of the show this summer. I don't know as his uncle will want him staying inside the tent so much."

"I reckon I can fix that," Mrs. Puffer said confidently. "How about it, boy?" Wouldn't you like to run errands for me?"

"I can't," said Johnnie Green desperately. "I—I got a bear to tend to."

Mrs. Puffer the Bearded Lady was disappointed. "I'll have a talk with your uncle, anyway," she answered, as she mounted the platform that Mr. Skinner the Living Skeleton had already vacated.

Johnnie Green hurried away. He intended to lose no time in having a talk with his uncle himself.
